

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE SWINGS INTO ACTION

EXTRAVAGANCE SENDS TAXES UP MANY MILLIONS

In Eighteen Months Government Has Spent Over $50,000,000 and Increased Expenditure on Current Revenue Twenty Per Cent, Says T. D. Pattullo in Trenchant Criticism of Shelly Budget; Broke Faith With Autoists on Gasoline Taxes; Ready to Accept Responsibility for Lands Schemes Embarked on During Soldier Rehabilitation Period.

In face of promises to reduce taxation the government had followed a policy of improvident and prodigal extravagance by which it had increased expenditures to $40,000,000 a year and had brought the credit of the province to the position where bank demands had forced it to take heavy losses on the sale of treasury notes, T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, stated in the Legislature yesterday.

The galleries of the House were crowded when the leader of the opposition rose to deliver the trenchant criticism of the budget and the administration generally that was anticipated, and Mr. Pattullo spared no department of the administration. He discussed in detail the new taxes in the budget, the increase in the gross public debt, the cut in revenue to municipalities, and flayed the government in characteristic style for deficiencies and failure to fulfill promises. Premier Tolmie came in for ringing rebukes, as being responsible as head of the government and party to cruel and vicious partisanship, and Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Works, drew fire from Mr. Pattullo on the same score.

Launching his attack of extravagance on the government, Mr. Pattullo said, that in eighteen months it had spent between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000, and by next session it would amount to between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000, as it was taking power to borrow $15,000,000 for the ensuing year, with $9,000,000 still outstanding in existing loan acts. The government was spending at the rate of $40,000,000 a year, and had increased the annual expenditure, current revenue account twenty per cent.
"And this administration promised to cut down taxes," said the speaker. "They didn't say they hoped to. They said positively they would, and now we have increased expenditure and increased taxes."

VICEROY OF INDIA SENDS GANDHI REPLY

Lord Irwin Says He Regrets Nationalists Contemplate Menacing Public Peace

Next Tuesday Set By Gandhi For Start of Disobedience Campaign

Canadian Press
New Delhi, India, March 7.—Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, today replied to the ultimatum of Mahatmas Gandhi, Indian Nationalist leader, who Tuesday informed the British Government that if independence for India was not granted he immediately would inaugurate a campaign of "civil disobedience."
The Viceroy's answer was non-committal and formal in the extreme. It bore the signature of his private secretary.
The communication read: "Dear Mr. Gandhi: His Excellency the Viceroy desires me to acknowledge your letter of Monday, March 5. He regrets to learn that you contemplate a course of action which is clearly bound to involve violation of the law and danger to the public peace."
"Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) C. CUNNINGHAM."

Patil is one of the leaders of the civil disobedience campaign which is shortly to open.
NOT SUPPORTED BY ALL
Bombay, India, March 7.—Strong disapproval of Mahatma Gandhi's disobedience campaign plan was expressed today by Shaikat Ali, one of the staunchest supporters of Gandhi's previous non-cooperation movement.
Addressing a big Moslem gathering, Shaikat Ali said Gandhi's action was unwise and he was sure it would mean "bloodshed among ourselves."

New Bill Drafted To U.S. GUARDS Govern Non-medical Healers of Province

Canadian Press
Cleveland, Ohio, March 7.—A man who said he was Fred Hentric, Detroit, probably was fatally wounded and an unidentified companion was captured by United States coastguardsmen who fired on an armor-plated tug, midway between Lorain and Cleveland early today. The tug carried a cargo of 1,000 cases of liquor, the guardsmen said.
Captain J. T. Hagelove of the coastguard craft said the tug failed to heed his orders to halt and turned about in a clumsy effort to escape after two warning shots had been fired. High Captain Hagelove ordered his crew of eight men to fire directly with a one-pounder and rifles.
The tug was bombarded for a time before the coastguardsmen went aboard. They met with no resistance. Hentric was found with two bullet wounds in his back and hospital attendants said he probably would die. The other prisoner, Hagelove said, was "too drunk to give his name."

The names of the trio were not immediately divulged.

The charges are a development of the incident at Oakville last week when the members of the Klan separated Mrs. Johnson from her white fiancée, John Johnson, who is of Indian descent.

Damage was believed heavy between Bordeaux and Langon, where the entire countryside was flooded.

Emperor Orders I. Kobashi to Face Court on Charge of Accepting Bribe

Tokio, March 7.—Emperor Hirohito today ordered the indictment of Ichita Kobashi, former Minister of Education, on a charge of accepting a bribe.
Thus the series of high scandals which hitherto had chiefly involved the Seiyukai Party leaders, has touched the Minseitō Party, since Kobashi was a member of the Ministry of Premier Matsuoka until his resignation, November 29, when charges involving him threatened to weaken the Cabinet. Kobashi then declared he was innocent, but resigned so as not to embarrass the Government.
The indictment charges Kobashi accepted funds in connection with the Government purchase of a private railway in 1927, when he was a member of the lower house and of the now defunct Seiyuho Party.
General Hanzo Yamashita, Governor-General of Korea during the regime of Premier Tanaka of the Seiyukai Party, was indicted in December on charges of accepting bribes in connection with the granting of permission to establish a rice exchange at Pusan, Korea. Shortly before that, Heihachi Ogawa, former Minister of Railways, had been arrested on bribery charges.

SPEED LIMIT ON DRIVE YOURSELF CARS IS PROPOSED

A limit of thirty-five miles an hour on automobiles ruled by "drive yourself" companies in British Columbia is provided for in an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act on the order papers in the name of Attorney-General Fooley. The amendment prescribes that all cars let for hire without drivers shall be equipped with automatic speed controls, which will prevent them being driven at a greater speed than thirty-five miles an hour. A previous amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act moved by Mr. Fooley aimed to curtail the use of drive yourself cars by immature drivers, called for a driver's license issued to a minor to apply to one car only which would be named on the license.

U.S. SENATORS STUDY POSITION OF ONTARIO-MINNESOTA LINE

By KEN CLARK, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, March 7.—The United States Senate Committee on public lands and surveys has now under consideration a resolution introduced by Senator Thomas D. Schall of Minnesota which would provide Congress with information as to whether Canadian sovereignty over Hunter Island, north of the border between Ontario and Minnesota, is well-established.
The area is a million acres in extent and, according to Senator Schall, under the treaty of 1783 between Great Britain and the United States, Hunter Island ought to belong to the United States, since it is suggested it lies below the "water communications" between Lake Superior and Lake of the Woods mentioned in the treaty.
There would be considerable surprise here if Senator Schall's resolution came to anything.
Senator Schall's suggestion is based on the argument that recent surveys have shown Hunter Island, now known as the Quetico Park of Ontario, to be no island at all but a peninsula and part of the continental United States.

QUESTIONS MALICIOUS

Stiletto Used in Queries on Beer Prices, Says A. M. Manson, K.C.

Royal Commission Finding on Campaign Funds Ignored By Kennedy

Questions about beer asked by W. F. Kennedy and answered by Attorney-General Pooley on the legislative order paper were described by A. M. Manson, K.C., in the House yesterday as "malicious in intent and malicious in effect."

He argued that they were an abuse of the privilege of the House and a violation of the rules, going away back to 1924 for the purpose of digging up something with which to attack his personal character. He did not believe that Mr. Kennedy had anything to do with the questions, but that they were put in his hand for the purpose of eliciting answers that reflected on a former minister of the opposing party.

Mr. Manson charged that the answers told only half truths with reference to the increase in price of beer. They did not mention that a royal commission, presided over by Chief Justice Morrison, Mayor W. H. Malkin and the Rev. J. S. Henderson, had investigated the matter and found that the brewers were fairly entitled to the increase and that the government had to grant it or manufacture its own beer. The answer, said Mr. Manson, did not show that the commission found that the increased price was still lower than the prices paid by the governments of every province from Alberta to Ontario, and that no campaign fund transaction was connected with the increase.

Mr. Kennedy, said Mr. Manson, had mentioned campaign funds in connection with the Highway Act, and he thought it only fair to report, Mr. Pooley said the questions had been answered literally and truthfully, Col. C. W. Peck told Mr. Manson to take his medicine and not "squel." Mr. Manson asked whether Col. Peck approved the use of the stiletto, but the speaker cut off further discussion.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE REFUSES TO SUPPORT PROTEST AGAINST EMPLOYMENT OF MARRIED WOMEN

The monthly meeting of the Metchoin Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. H. C. Helgesen, approved the action of the executive in protesting to the Legislature against the menace to the sheep-breeding industry, which they foresaw as a result of the proposal by Victoria to close the Sooke Lake watershed area to the public.

The institute will enter an exhibit from Metchoin district at the Victoria spring flower show on April 25. Mrs. H. Jordan and Mrs. C. Helgesen will collect the flowers and arrange the exhibit.

After much discussion the meeting refused to support a resolution from Strawberry Vale W.I. protesting employment of married women whose husbands were in a position to support them adequately. Mrs. McKiever recalled conditions of women's work forty years ago and denounced discrimination against married women. In her opinion the resolution was a retrograde movement. "Canada had the distinction of having the first woman senator in the British Empire, and prohibition of married women from working would be asking for the dismissal of this woman senator. Other speakers gave examples of girls and married women having no need to work, taking jobs at small wages from those whose living depended entirely on their own efforts."

The Metchoin Farmers' Institute asked co-operation in holding a fall fair at Luxton. Mrs. E. R. Johnson and Mrs. T. Barclay will represent the W.I. at a meeting at Colwood Hall on March 18, to confer with the Farmers' Institute executive.

Prizes for personal proficiency will be given as usual to the pupils of Metchoin and Albert Head schools.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter of condolence to Mrs. Milne, who recently lost her brother. Sewing for the Solum was distributed to the members.

The date of the Institute spring flower and bulb show has been fixed for Wednesday, April 23. The prize list was discussed, and a committee consisting of Mrs. H. Jordan, Mrs. Meredith-Jones, Mrs. C. Helgesen and Mrs. Taylor was appointed to revise the list and will meet the president and the secretary at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. E. Helgesen will convene the tea at the show; Mrs. Waide and Mrs. Witte will preside at the home cooking and candy stall; Miss E. L. Milne

SASKATCHEWAN LANDS PACT IS COMPLETED

Resources Agreement Clears Up Federal-Provincial Questions Across Canada

Couple of Points to Be Decided By Supreme Court at Ottawa

Ottawa, March 7.—Premier J. T. M. Anderson of Saskatchewan today is homeward bound from Ottawa with an agreement with the federal government for transfer of the natural resources of Saskatchewan from federal to provincial control.

Following negotiations between Premier King and members of the federal cabinet and the Premier of Saskatchewan and his colleagues, an accord was arrived at yesterday evening which is declared satisfactory to both the Dominion and the province.

There remain only one or two small matters to be adjusted, mostly of a constitutional nature, said Premier King, commenting on the agreement, "and we decided to submit these to the Supreme Court. As soon as the questions to be submitted have been formulated, the whole text of the agreement and the questions will be made public."

The Prime Minister declared Premier Anderson was well pleased with the decision reached for his part he himself was gratified.

"The four western provinces now have their resources and the Maritime Provinces have had their difficulties adjusted, so the whole country has had a problem aired and attention given to them," he said.

Premier Anderson and his colleagues left the capital for Regina yesterday evening.

Prior to his departure, Mr. Anderson issued the following statement: "The legal representatives of the province and Dominion will meet within the next ten days and decide upon what questions will be placed before the Supreme Court, and if necessary the Privy Council. The agreement will not be finally signed until these questions are agreed upon."

"The conferences were carried on in friendly fashion and the Saskatchewan delegation is leaving for the west with a feeling of satisfaction that this vexed provincial question is now on the way to an ultimate solution."

With the settlement of the Saskatchewan resources question, practically all points at issue between the two provincial governments have been cleared up. There remain only the question of relative Federal and provincial jurisdiction in regard to control of waterpower rights on provincial and international streams affecting Ontario and Quebec. It is understood good progress has been made during the last month or so in securing an agreement upon all questions involved therein following conferences of the two provincial Premiers with the Federal Ministers. A further conference will be held to-morrow, and indications are that all remaining points of difference will be settled. Thus the air is practically cleared in respect to all boundary and Federal-Provincial questions extending over a period of many years and for the time being at least all points of friction have been eliminated.

FARMERS PLAN DOMINION-WIDE ASSOCIATION

Saskatoon, March 7.—Incorporation of a Dominion-wide agrarian organization, "United Farmers of Canada," is to be sought by the directors of the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada. Decision to seek formation of a Canadian unit, with co-operating provincial sections, was made at the annual meet of the Saskatchewan section last week but was not made public until today.

According to a resolution approved, the Saskatchewan directors asked to take immediate steps to incorporate a national organization known as the United Farmers of Canada, which would consist of provincial sections similarly organized. Through J. E. Armstrong, president, an offer to join the Saskatchewan section under a federal charter was made at the convention by the British Columbia section of the United Farmers of Canada.

According to President George H. Williams of the Saskatchewan body, a conference of provincial farm body representatives will be called by the board. He made no mention of the possible date of the meeting.

The Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada is by far the largest of three prairie farm bodies claiming a total of 30,000 members.

MARKET ACT DECISION SOON BY B.C. COURT

Vancouver, March 7.—Whether levies imposed by the Interior fruit and vegetable committee of direction, Kelowna, constitute indirect taxation and to that extent render the British Columbia Produce Marketing Act ultra vires, is a question on which Mr. Justice Murphy reserved judgment.

The hearing of an action by A. C. Lawson, fruit rancher of Carson, near Grand Forks, for a declaration that the statute is invalid and that he is not obliged to pay the levies imposed by the defendant committee, was concluded in the Supreme Court here before the judge on Thursday.

It is a test case, for the first time since the Interior fruit and vegetable committee of direction, Kelowna, was formed, for the validity of the levy imposed by the defendant committee, was concluded in the Supreme Court here before the judge on Thursday.

Attacking the Produce Marketing Act in a civil suit, Lawson is nominal plaintiff for independent fruit growers of the interior, including Doukhobor organizations in the vicinity of Grand Forks.

Judgment of the Court of Appeal in the quasi-criminal prosecutions of Chung Chuck and Wong Kit, Ladner Chinese potato growers, affirming the validity of the statute, debars Mr. Justice Murphy from considering issues decided by the appellate tribunal. The matter of levies being indirect taxation is something new, however.

The independent growers arranged to carry the case to the Supreme Court of Canada in Ottawa. In the event of an adverse judgment from Mr. Justice Murphy, they will seek to appeal direct to Ottawa, thus obviating the necessity of a hearing in the British Columbia Court of Appeal. From the Supreme Court the case, on a constitutional issue, may be carried by either party to the committee of the Privy Council in London.

EX-ACTRESS OF NEW YORK PUTS END TO LIFE

New York, March 7.—Donning for the last time her favorite jewels—a costly jade pendant and several diamond rings—Christine Norman, a Broadway favorite of a generation ago, stepped to her death yesterday from a window of her twentieth floor apartment in the Hotel Warwick.

She left six letters, one of which requested her body be buried beside that of her father in Cincinnati, Ohio, in a metal casket and dressed in a pink satin gown which would be found in one of her wardrobe trunks.

Miss Norman, whom Neysa McMein, the artist, once classed as one of the twelve most beautiful women in the United States, was in the original company of such famous productions as "Peg O' My Heart," "The Bird of Paradise," and "The Unhatched Woman." She had not appeared on the stage recently, but had devoted herself to writing plays, in which, according to her estranged husband, Enos Booth, a lawyer, she had achieved a fair degree of success.

Recently she had been in ill health and feared a cancer, police learned. Miss Norman, who was forty-three, was married to Booth in 1919, but they separated in 1925.

INSURANCE FOR HUDSON BAY SHIPS PLANNED

Federal Government Officials Studying Aid For Prairie-Europe Steamer Route

Ottawa, March 7.—Data is being prepared by the Department of Railways and Canals with the co-operation of the other departments respecting the Hudson Bay route which will be submitted to the marine insurance companies. Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, expects this information will be ready in a couple of months.

The success of the Bay route will depend to a great extent on the shipping rates between Churchill and European ports. The insurance rates will play an important part and accordingly the government is anxious to have as much information as possible to present to the insurance companies. It may be necessary for the government to carry a share of the risks until the route has been proved by actual shipping operations.

NEW ELEVATOR
The tender for the 500,000-bushel elevator, which will be erected at Churchill, will likely be called for some time near May 1. Work will be resumed on the other port facilities as soon as the spring break-up makes it possible. It is not expected, however, there will be any important shipping out of that port this year.

Some informal discussions have taken place among Manitoba members, including Mr. Crerar, respecting the proposed Making-out-off and the other proposal to connect Oupessumville with The Pas, both being for the purpose of shortening the distance between Winnipeg and Churchill. No official information has been given out as to the outcome of these conferences and it is understood the government is not likely to make any immediate decision in the matter.

SHAFT IN NEW GOLD FIELD IS A FAILURE

Ruby, Alaska, March 7.—Completion of the first hole sunk in an effort to determine the width of the pay streak of the recent rich gold strike on Beaver Creek did not show pay dirt, operators report. The hole was sixty-three feet toward the creek from the point of discovery. Other prospect holes will be sunk closer to the discovery point in the near future.

Fifteen prospecting offers, used to generate interest for having the frozen ground to permit digging, are being taken in by tractors.

SAMOANS WILL NOT END THEIR NATIVE LEAGUE

Peace Conference Between Chiefs and Administrator From New Zealand

Apia, Western Samoa, March 7.—A conference between the New Zealand Governor of Western Samoa and native chiefs in an effort to bring a peaceable settlement of the many years of Samoan resistance to New Zealand rule closed when the native leaders brought decisions to questions propounded by Administrator S. S. Allen.

The Samoans expressed themselves as willing to break up their organization, the League of Native Samoans, as the administrator suggested. Allen had branded the organization as seditious, following a disturbance December 28 last, during which a native constable and eight natives were killed.

TO RETURN TO HOMES
The high chiefs raised no opposition to action of government officials in attempting to apprehend natives wanted for infraction of regulations. It was understood the natives agreed to return to their villages and go about their occupations peaceably.

Administrator Allen said he would meet with representatives of the natives at any time to discuss matters of benefit to Western Samoa.

The Samoan natives for several years have demanded more representation by granting their chiefs in the government. They resented liquor prohibition and regulation of their trade in copra, although the government had set the regulation was for the natives' protection. The opposition has consisted principally of refusal to pay taxes and the boycott of stores owned by Europeans.

PIPE LINES FOR PAPER PULP AT BORDER DEBATED

But U.S. Senate Not Impressed With Future of Import Proposal

By KEN CLARK
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
A picture of 102 paper manufacturers being forced to move their plants to the Canadian boundary, where they will receive their pulp in liquid form by way of pipes over the border, has been presented to the Senate by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts. Senator Walsh wants liquid pulp made dutiable at ten per cent ad valorem, while pulp in sheets and bales would be left on the free list. But the Senate refuses

CANADA IS TO INCREASE WEST INDIES TRADE

President of Manufacturers' Association Tells of Success of Tour of Mission

Calgary, March 7.—R. S. Hutchings, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, returning from a mission to the British West Indies, said here today that in trade actualities and prospects, conditions could not be better.

"We found on every hand the most pleasing disposition on the part of the officials and traders of the islands to meet us half way," he said. "They are making every effort possible to meet the demands of the Canadian trade, and in this connection the representative nature of our party—there were twenty-six Canadian industrial executives therein—made it possible to supply shippers with very helpful advice in regard to the methods of packing and shipping their products for the Canadian market."

ABITRATION PLAN
"One thing we shall probably propose as a means of facilitating trade," continued Mr. Hutchings, "is the establishment of a trade arbitration board at Halifax or St. John to settle any disputes which may arise in the course of commercial dealings between exporters and importers of the two parts of the empire. This would eliminate largely the possibility of any great friction taking place."

"Another thing which may be proposed," he added, "is that committees in each country be appointed to meet every two weeks to discuss ways and means of furthering and improving trade relations."

NOW MORE THAN 7,000,000 JOBLESS IN SOVIET LAND

New York, March 7.—Raphael Abramovich, prominent Russian Socialist now in this city, was quoted by The New York Times yesterday as saying there were at present from 7,000,000 to 10,000,000 unemployed in Soviet Russia and that no demonstrations by them were tolerated.

"The spectacle of Moscow stirring up unemployment demonstrations abroad at a time when it denies to its own workers the right of free speech, free press and peaceful assembly would be very amusing," he said, "if it were not so tragic for the Russian workers."

He pointed out that while Russia has a system of unemployment insurance, only a fraction of the workers can avail themselves of it, and that official party members get preference.

"The rest," he said, "are permitted to starve, and if they protest they meet with brutal handling by the government, with prosecution, imprisonment and exile."

Of the unemployed, he said 2,000,000 were industrial workers out of a total of about 8,000,000 employed in industry, and from 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 were agricultural laborers.

Yukon Men At Vancouver Dinner

Vancouver, March 7.—Yukoners, assembled for their annual dinner here last night, were informed by visiting dignitaries there was still enough gold in the Yukon to keep the dredges busy thirty years.

Nearly 400 attended, including guests from the Yukon and Seattle. Lieut.-Col. H. Hume, president of the association, presided.

An address on "Conditions and Production of Gold and Silver in the Yukon" was given by Mr. Justice McCord, who said that with modern methods of mining, there was enough gold and silver in the Yukon to keep the dredges busy for thirty years.

BRITISH LORDS DISCUSS RUSSIA AND CHURCHES

London, March 7.—An order issued by the Army Council, on instructions from the government, exempting officers and men from compulsory attendance at intercessory prayer services for the persecuted Christians in Russia, was the subject of a warm debate in the House of Lords yesterday.

The Duke of Atholl said the order made great confusion and went on to describe the recent happenings in Russia as "the greatest orgy of brutality that has ever blackened the world."

Lord Thomson, Secretary of State for Air, criticized the Duke of Atholl's speech as an unparliamentary attempt to make political capital out of a religious issue. The Russians might easily charge the Government of Great Britain with inflaming the minds of its military against Russia through the medium of religion, he said.

POWER DEBATE LEGGE WARNS EMBARGO MAY GO ON WHEAT

M.P.'s Express Views on Position of Companies in the Field

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, March 7.—There was no occasion for a "power war," declared Hon. Donald McKenzie, Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, in the Manitoba Legislature yesterday afternoon.

Reports that private and public power interests, including the Winnipeg Hydro, Winnipeg Electric Company and Backus Company, were in disagreement over regulation of water levels of the Lake of the Woods were greatly exaggerated, Mr. McKenzie believed. The Lake of the Woods Control Board was in charge of the situation, and he believed an amicable settlement would be made.

There was evidence, he said, of friendly co-operation between all interests in making the best of a temporary water reduction due to insufficient rainfall last summer.

William J. Lyons, Labor, Winnipeg, charged there was "something sinister" in the presence of Dr. T. H. Hogg, chief engineer of the Ontario Hydro Commission, on the Lake of the Woods Control Board. He understood Dr. Hogg also was in the employ of the Northwestern Power Company, subsidiary of the Winnipeg Electric Company, which was granted a lease of the now famous Seven Sisters Falls power site on the recommendation of the Ontario engineer.

Mr. McKenzie, however, could see no reason for any drastic action expressing lack of confidence in Dr. Hogg. He was a hydraulic engineer of note, appointed to the board by the Ontario Government.

Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General, said the opposition members would do well to ascertain all the facts in the case before making charges. He was not certain Dr. Hogg was in the employ of the Northwestern Power Company.

$600,000 PAID AS ESTATE TAX

Montreal, March 7.—Difficulties between the executors of the Sir Mortimer Davis estate and the succession duties branch of the Quebec Government were aired yesterday in the assumption of trial of the action brought by Lady Davis and Mortimer Davis Jr. to oust Lord Shoughnessy and Alexander M. Resper from office as executors. It was established that succession duties amounting to well over a million dollars were not paid at the time the action was taken and that $600,000 was paid on account only after the Government had threatened to institute proceedings to collect the full amount.

Alexander M. Resper was on the stand during the whole day, it being his second full day as a witness. The amount of the duties payable was fixed by the Government at $1,327,514.31. For the purpose of determining the duties the investments of the estate were valued at $29,392,898. Counsel for the plaintiffs mentioned upon legacies and bequests mentioned in Sir Mortimer Davis's will and the many of the duties of these last remained unpaid, including one of $100,000 to Lord Shoughnessy, another to the Montreal General Hospital and one to the Notre Dame Hospital. No interest was being paid on these legacies, the witness stated.

They were immediately transferred to a bus and taken to their homes in Porto Rico, fifteen miles south of here.

The other members of the party, supervised by Provincial Police, en route, were left at their various homes along the way. Grand Forks, Brilliant, Tarrys and Thrums. There was no demonstration by the released prisoners, members of the Sons of Freedom sect.

Urges New Study Of Grain Export Trade

Vancouver, March 7.—If Vancouver business men interested in the grain trade are to develop it to its proper proportions they should make a careful study of conditions on the prairies and try to get the viewpoint of the grower.

This opinion was expressed by E. B. Ramsey, chairman of the Dominion Board of Grain Commissioners, here yesterday evening before leaving for Calgary. He was accompanied by C. M. Hamilton and Dr. D. A. MacGibbon, commissioners, on the first visit here of the new board to this coast.

Oriental trade offered the best opportunity for development from Vancouver, not only in grain but general commodities from British Columbia and the whole Dominion, said Mr. Ramsey.

LEGGE WARNS EMBARGO MAY GO ON WHEAT

Washington, March 7.—A virtual threat that a real embargo against shipping wheat from farms to terminal markets will be put into effect unless farmers hold their stock until storage facilities become available, has been announced by Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board.

Legge said the board is endeavoring to avoid such drastic measure during the present grain emergency, but that if railroads are unable to unload cars of grain at the terminals the embargo must be faced.

Reasons given by Legge for the board's recent order to the corporation to cease buying wheat at the loan figure and operate on the open market at the current price were first, the congestion; second, that considerable wheat not owned by the co-operatives was being bought; and last, that it placed millers in some sections at an unfair advantage.

While the Stabilization Corporation will continue to operate whenever necessary on the open market at the market price, the loan value to co-operatives on wheat will continue. Legge was usually optimistic concerning the wheat outlook. Since his conference at Chicago with the National Wheat Advisory committee, representatives of the Farmers Corporation and the Stabilization Corporation, he indicated the board believes the present surplus crisis will be solved before the winter crop starts to the market about the middle of June.

NEW PENSIONS PLAN DEBATED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 7.—While there has been considerable discussion in Parliament as to the question of pensions for war veterans and widows, one of the other classes for which the Canadian Legion is seeking a change in its legislative programme to be presented to parliament is that of dependent parents. This class consists of parents of members of the Canadian forces who were killed on active service or who died as a result of service disabilities, leaving them in dependent conditions.

The first suggestion the Legion makes in this regard has reference to the production of evidence to show that had he lived the deceased member of the forces would have contributed to the maintenance of his parents.

The Legion is asking for amendment of the Pensions Act to provide a pension may be granted to parents in this class unless the commission obtains or has produced substantial evidence of definite intent to withhold support.

Flin Flon Mine Work Now Well Advanced

Winnipeg, March 7.—While no shaft sinking records are being established at the Flin Flon mine of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting, the work is moving steadily forward and the main shaft is now well below 600 feet. Development operations were started at that level last month.

Meatime, erection of the concentrator is proceeding, while machinery and heavy equipment is being transported to the power development site. Due to poor ice, the loads being hauled by the tractors are necessarily nearly half as large or heavy as those which it was possible to haul over the ice during the winter of 1928-29. It is expected that about 32,000,000 pounds of material will be transported to the site during the current winter. At the mine and at the power plant about 1,500 men are employed.

School Board And Council Disagree

Vernon, B.C., March 7.—The Coldstream School Board and Municipal Council are having differences over the sum to be included in the levy for extensions to school premises. The council has asked the trustees to cut down. The trustees suggested a conference, but none of the councilors responded. The council then passed a resolution asking the council to put the matter to a vote of the voters. The council then passed a resolution asking the council to put the matter to a vote of the voters.

REMAND GIVEN

Winnipeg, March 7.—Wallace S. Robinson, charged with theft of $3,000 worth of securities from the St. John's Hotel, Portage la Prairie, was remanded until March 10 in police court here yesterday. Robinson, former head of the securities department of the St. John's Hotel, Portage la Prairie, was remanded until March 10 in police court here yesterday.

CATTLEMAN SUFFER LOSSES

Portland, Ore., March 7.—A sudden outbreak of rabies, declared by cattlemen to be the worst since 1915, when about $1,000,000 worth of cattle were lost in Oregon, has been reported in Harney County by Elmer Williams, Assistant Predator Animal Control Leader of the United States Biological Survey, who returned here yesterday from a survey of general conditions in that county.

Ottawa, March 7.—The perpetuation of the 1st Canadian Mounted Rifles Battalion, C.E.F., jointly by the Manitoba Mounted Rifles and the Saskatchewan Mounted Rifles has been authorized, according to an announcement by the Department of National Defence.

PANTAGES APPEALS

Los Angeles, March 7.—Attorneys for Alexander Panagias, millionaire showman convicted of an assault on a young woman, yesterday filed an opening brief appealing the conviction to the district court of appeals. Charges of prejudice in the jury and "judicial misconduct" by District Attorney Buron Pitts are made.

FRUIT TREE SURVEY

Vernon, B.C., March 7.—The Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture are making a tree-to-tree survey of all orchards in the province. The survey is being conducted in various parts of the district covered by the Vernon agricultural office. The horticulturists are endeavoring to complete this survey at an early date.

Philadelphia, March 7.—One man was shot to death and three seriously wounded yesterday evening in a battle between employees of the H. C. Aberle Hosiery Mills and alleged members of the Hosiery Workers' Union and sympathizers.

IT WAS FITTING THAT MR. PATTULLO devoted a good deal of his discussion of the budget yesterday afternoon to the alarming rate at which the government is spending public money. There is no answer to the opposition leader's charge that the definite promise of lower taxes not only has not been kept in any particular, but also that new taxes have been imposed and general expenditure increased. Dr. Tolmie's campaign cry in the summer of 1928 was that the province was laboring under a staggering load of taxation, that if he were permitted to form a government, relief would be forthcoming. As Mr. Pattullo reminded the Legislature, there was nothing conditional about this promise; it was precise, and upon the strength of it, to a very large extent, the electorate changed its administration.

The opposition leader's speech was notable for the orderly arrangement of the facts it contained. He showed clearly that in the eighteen months of its regime the Tolmie government had spent between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000, and there is not the least doubt in Mr. Pattullo's mind that within the next twelve months this total will have grown to between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000, since authority is about to be taken to borrow $15,000,000 during the ensuing fiscal year, in spite of the fact that under existing loan acts there still remains power to borrow $9,000,000, the total borrowing authority thus available being $24,000,000.

The figures mentioned by Mr. Pattullo are staggering enough in themselves; but the taxpayers should note that the government has departed from the well-established policy of earmarking motor license fees and the revenue from the gasoline tax for highway purposes. In future the return from these two sources will be turned into the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which is the general till for all provincial revenues, to be drawn from as the government sees fit. This change of policy is a breach of faith with the motoring public, and the inference Mr. Pattullo drew will be drawn by the taxpayers. Some of this money will be used to satisfy the government's apparent mania for conducting costly inquiries; the results of many of which it evidently intends to keep to itself.

The opposition leader's reply to Mr. Shelly's criticism of the late government's soldier settlement schemes was an honest acceptance of responsibility for losses from a policy dictated by conditions about which the present Minister of Finance could know little or nothing. Several members of the present Legislature will remember why it was necessary to pass certain measures during the early period of post-war rehabilitation, and if Mr. Shelly had been in the corridors on one memorable occasion more than ten years ago, he would now be in a position to talk more intelligently about the policies initiated at that time. "We take full responsibility for those losses," Mr. Pattullo assured the government yesterday as he remarked he was gratified they were not more serious than reflected by the figure quoted by the Minister of Finance. "We did what we thought was our duty at the time to help rehabilitate the men coming back from overseas," said the opposition leader as he closed his reference to this matter.

It will strike the average individual as somewhat strange that the party which considers it has a monopoly on patriotism loses no opportunity of soundly berating the former Liberal government of this province for doing what it could, with the limited resources at its command, for the men who had gone overseas at the call of duty and had returned only to find that the Conservative government then in office at Ottawa had made nothing like adequate arrangements for their absorption into civil life. This was the condition which confronted the Oliver government when ex-service men were asking that the country's promise be kept. The losses thus incurred—and losses were anticipated—have given the party at present in office in British Columbia a text for many hours of undignified discussion.

Mr. Pattullo is to be congratulated upon his able exposition of the financial state of affairs in which the province finds itself. It furnishes the public food for profitable reflection.

NOISY MR. CHURCH

IF MR. THOMAS L. CHURCH REALLY wanted to attract attention to his presence in the House of Commons, he might have gone to the trouble of finding a subject he could have discussed without making himself sound utterly foolish within hearing of his leader. But he seized upon Miss Macphail's resolution calling for the spending of one dollar for peace propaganda for every hundred dollars spent upon preparation for war as his excuse for saying that the people of Canada are tired of the annual pilgrimage of cabinet ministers to Geneva, that national confidence would be restored quicker by a baseball team in the National League than by sending "worn-out politicians" to the League of Nations, which he thought should be changed to the "League of Humbug."

This is the view of a member of the party which will ask the people of this country before many months have passed to permit it to conduct their affairs. Although there is not the slightest indication that such an appeal will be successful, we suppose Mr. Church would ask for a cabinet position in the event of such an unexpected development. It may be that Miss Macphail's proposal would take a good deal of working out, since it would involve provincial jurisdiction, but it is obviously sound in principle. She would spend the peace dollar by setting up a chair of international relations and by instituting international scholarships in each Canadian university. As the Canadian people still are faced with a bill of something like $2,000,000,000 for their share of the cost of the last war, it is hardly likely they will see anything very funny in the cheap joke from the Toronto member.

On the other hand, the majority of the Canadian people will agree with Hon. Ernest Lapointe—who supported the principle of Miss Macphail's resolution—in his view that a great change has come over the world in the last ten years. "It is no longer the part of a dreamer or the sign of inferiority to talk peace," the Minister of Justice reminded the House as he went on to say that war paid nobody, that when it was all over the winner was very little better off than the loser. It may be better for the government perhaps to leave the noisy member from Toronto to Sir George Foster to deal with. This stalwart Conservative, of course, comes under Mr. Church's definition of a "worn-out politician," selected by his political opponents as one of this Dominion's delegates to the Assembly of the League last year—an office he filled with distinction and ability.

MAKE THEM PAY UP

A CORRESPONDENT MAKES A PERTINENT suggestion which might profitably be adopted by Parliament. It is that provision be made for levying a heavy tax—our correspondent would make it eighty per cent.—on the profits made by brokers who skin the public by unscrupulous methods. Certainly the imposition of stiff penalties, even imprisonment, upon those who are found guilty of fraudulent practices is not adequate unless it is accompanied by substantial restitution to either the victims individually or the public generally through the national treasury.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to reimburse the victims, but it ought not to be difficult for the government to lay a heavy hand upon the millions of dishonest profits which have been salted away. This is an aspect of the stock jobbery situation which should not be overlooked by the national and provincial governments.

THE FARMER KNOWS HIS MIND

THERE IS A PROPOSAL BEFORE THE House of Commons that the customs duty on motor trucks be reduced to a level corresponding to that on other agricultural machinery. Mr. G. G. Coote, U.F.A., Macleod, presented it.

The Minister of Finance was not ready to inform the House as to what his budget would contain, or what might or might not be done with regard to this particular matter of motor trucks; but the proposal drew from Mr. Bennett the suggestion that the question involved was "whether or not a motor truck industry was wanted in Canada. If the country wanted the industry, it had to protect it," and so on.

But that was not the question at all. The question, as raised by the farmer member, was purely one of cheaper motor trucks. Mr. Bennett would make him pay more for them if he could. He would increase the cost by increasing the tariff.

The traditional Conservative attitude towards the tariff as expounded by Mr. Bennett in this case is strangely in conflict with the opposition leader's speaking tour formula. When he was in the west recently he announced a tariff that would benefit the consumer as well as the producer. But he would hardly expect the House of Commons to swallow that kind of applesauce.

The Kingston (Jamaica) Gleaner

The Englishman is not so exuberant as a rule as the man born on the North American continent; the Canadian, in speaking of Canada, indulges rather more in emphasis than does the Englishman when speaking of any country, and certainly of England. Yet the enthusiasm of Canada has infected and influenced its present Governor-General; he sees it as growing rapidly in wealth, in population, in power and in culture, and he hopes that these West Indies will always be closely associated with such a Dominion. And by his own charm of manner and his belief in the beneficial results of such a connection he himself does much to make that connection close. If Canada had consciously desired to find someone who should cause this colony to think particularly of her at this time, in the kindest and most cordial manner, she certainly had him in Lord Willington. And through Lady Willington also she has made a most friendly and sympathetic appeal to the best sentiment of Jamaica.

Across the Bay

Mr. Pattullo tell the government where it gets off at—the government, however, continues to remain on—Mr. Davis speaks with solemnity—Mr. Mitchell tells about Kamloops—and Mr. Manson demands fair play.

By H. B. W.

OPPOSITION LEADER Pattullo held the mirror up to the government yesterday and the picture reflected therein was quite revolting. The government, of course, did not believe it was true. As for the other onlookers, they felt hopelessly in doubt. They had been assured by Minister of Finance Shelly, with 40,000 words and figures to prove it, that the government could do no wrong. Here was Mr. Pattullo with almost as many words and figures to prove that it had done nothing else. Altogether, the House felt like the farmer on the trial jury who, on hearing the prosecution, decided that the prisoner was guilty and then complained to the judge that the defence was mixing him all up again.

MR. PATTULLO was at the very top of his form, and in that humor is hard to beat. It is difficult to believe that he is the same Mr. Pattullo who, ten years ago, used to sit in the back benches of government and haltingly explain simple amendments to the Forest Act. He has developed into a first-class debater with few equals in the field of provincial politics. His was a fine and able speech, full of meat, logically developed, closely knit together, bare of any elaboration or digression.

SOMEHOW MR. PATTULLO was a little reminiscent of the style of W. J. Bowser, K.C., when he led the opposition. He waves his eyelashes in the same way, he leans out over his desk at the government in the same way. He thrusts out his bulldog chin and sometimes bites off his words in the same way.

HE WENT AFTER the ministers of the government, from the Premier down, seriatim and without gloves. Mr. Atkinson didn't know what he was talking about. Mr. McKenzie was just doing nothing. Mr. Howe had been taken out to sea by the cannon, thrown overboard and told to swim ashore, where he would presently land, dripping and wretched. Mr. Pooley was going mad with patronage and bringing the law into disrespect. Mr. Loughheed was just running wild. And the Premier didn't seem to understand anything, that's all. But this, mind you, was not personal in any sense, because the Cabinet ministers might be jolly good fellows, even if they were incompetent dubs and deep-eyed rascals.

THIS ENORMITY, "the Budget," moved Mr. Pattullo to his first confession of alarm in the House. Always, he said, he had been optimistic about British Columbia's prospects, in lean years and fat. He had never faltered in his faith until this day. Now, he admitted, he viewed everything with alarm, and kept referring to "the present condition of the province" as if everyone knew it was on the verge of instant collapse. But there was one ray of sunshine amid the encircling gloom—the government wouldn't be there long, for it was hastening to its doom.

ALL THIS LED to many merry moments during the period of Mr. Pattullo's speech. He clashed with Mr. Burden. He made some serious criticism of Mr. McKenzie, and when the latter denied the charge, Mr. Pattullo accepted the minister's statement but declined to withdraw his own. He wrestled with the Premier over the P.G.E., and when the Premier said he knew some things outside Mr. Pattullo's knowledge, Mr. Pattullo retorted with one of those unique sentences which he enjoys so much: "I know a whole lot more than that he doesn't know than he knows that I don't know."

AFTER MR. PATTULLO came Mr. Davis, who offered a complete contrast in many ways. Mr. Pattullo is a fire-eater, swift, vibrant and razor-sharp. Mr. Davis is cold, slow and inclined to be ponderous. This column said some hard and true things about Mr. Davis a few days ago. Equal truth requires it to record that he spoke well on Tuesday. He put his ideas into clear and often picturesque sentences, he analyzed the facts of the Budget simply and discussed the Oriental problem with earnestness. Mr. Davis is developing as a speaker and is not easily rattled. He speaks so deliberately, indeed, that if you watch him closely you can clearly see ideas taking shape in his mind.

THE LAST SPEECH on the Budget came from Mr. Mitchell of Kamloops, a friendly soul who loves his great constituency of Kamloops, his leagues of rolling range land, poplar forests and great rivers with a simple, all-embracing affection. He talks a ways of Kamloops and is never tired of telling the House about it. Mr. Mitchell, you feel, is always secretly wondering why the House doesn't do the obvious thing, double all the appropriations for Kamloops. And a new courthouse in Kamloops and go home.

THIS HAD BEEN intended for the full day's programme, but Mr. Manson had something to say. Mr. Manson charged that Mr. Kennedy, in asking Mr. Pooley all about the famous increase in beer prices in 1924, had been trying simply to damage Mr. Manson. This he considered unparliamentary and unfair, and he was surprised at Mr. Kennedy, usually a sportsman. The whole idea of the questions, said Mr. Manson, was to make it appear that the old government had received campaign funds from the brewers, and Mr. Pooley had not been fair enough to include in his answers to Mr. Kennedy the report of the royal commission which found that no such campaign funds had existed.

THE BEER PRICE increase matter never fails to make trouble. On this occasion it had Colonel Cy Peck, V.C., rumbling fiercely at Mr. Manson, Mr. Manson demanding whether Colonel Peck's idea of sportsmanship was the use of a stiletto, Mr. Speaker Jones calling loudly for order, and the whole House crying out as once.

The annual meeting of the British Columbia District Association Football League was held last evening at the Y.M.C.A. Rooms, Broad Street. There was a large attendance, there being present representatives of all of the teams participating in the three local leagues, namely, junior, intermediate and senior. Undoubtedly the most important business was the presentation of cups and medals to the winning teams by Major Bland of Work Point Garrison. Rev. W. W. Bolton occupied the chair.

SEES OUTLOOK OF WORLD AS BRIGHTER NOW

International Questions Appear Nearer Solution Now, Says Prof. Soward

Naval Disarmament and Reparations Forward Step, He Declares

A brighter outlook in international affairs than had existed since the war was foretold by Prof. F. H. Soward of the University of British Columbia in his lecture before the University Extension Association at Victoria College yesterday evening.

The speaker traced the steps of 1929 in world movements and held them up as shining examples to the unsuccessful attempts made in 1928 to benefit international conditions.

In three particular directions Prof. Soward saw outstanding success achieved during 1929 and the early part of 1930 and looked forward to seeing the world reap the fruits of the movements in the future. First among these was the advancement of naval disarmament, secondly, the more conciliatory attitude of nations on the question of reparations and, thirdly, the concordat between the Italian state and the papacy.

Prof. Soward outlined the tremendous increase in armament costs in 1929 over previous years and contrasted it with the decrease in estimates for this year. In 1928 the estimates of Great Britain alone had been one hundred and thirty million pounds, or fifty per cent more than that of 1913.

He noted that the taxpayers of Great Britain were paying $3,000 a minute to-day for the cost of the last war and in preparations for future conflicts.

PROGRESSIVE STEP
Hence he viewed with extreme optimism the attitude of not only Great Britain, but also the United States in moving toward the abolition of warships. Similar steps were being taken with regard to cruisers, he added.

It was an auspicious year for world affairs, Prof. Soward continued, since both President Hoover of the United States and Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain were pledged to support peace moves. He then summed up the United States president's attitude by repeating the latter's statement that the United States was ready to reduce armaments as soon as the other countries would.

Not only had these men initiated great steps toward peace, but they had, through personal contact, been able to provide a fine ground on which to build up amicable conferences. Referring to this, the speaker pointed to the visit of Ramsay MacDonald to this continent as well as to Geneva and his enunciation of Britain's pacifist ideals.

Returning to the topic of naval disarmament, Prof. Soward noted that Britain, the United States and Japan were in one accord in advocating the abolition of warships. This he hoped to see accomplished in the conference of 1935.

GREAT SAVING

The present policy of non-replacement of old ships of this type would save their respective nations a billion dollars a year, he added. Great Britain's reduction of cruisers from seventy to fifty also marked a forward step, Prof. Soward stated. In this type of ship, however, there was considerable controversy over the German construction of a craft, which kept within the description of a cruiser, but actually rated as a most highly efficient battleship. Another difficulty was found in Japan's desire for a larger tonnage appointment in this division.

Prof. Soward also traced the influence of the German ship on the French. It tended to make the latter develop a larger number of boats. Should France increase its naval armaments, Great Britain and the United States would do the same, he stated.

However, the speaker found that France was being offered greater security than she had been in previous years and would therefore require fewer armaments.

Submarines also formed a subject of great controversy, the speaker continued.

YOUNG PLAN LAUDED

Speaking of reparations, Prof. Soward stated that the Young plan, with its modifications, had tended to clear the atmosphere considerably last year. He sketched its clauses and outlined possibilities for it in the future.

This project not only fixed the total German indebtedness at nine billion dollars, but also paved the way for an international banking system, which, he thought, would eventually stabilize credit.

He paid high tribute to Snowden's stand on the reparations plan and

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out the formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Some inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double strength). Take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is liable of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

stated that it had not only gained several material benefits from the war, but had also tended to re-establish British prestige in the diplomatic world.

The recall of occupation armies from Germany was also looked upon by Prof. Soward as a forward step.

Dealing with the second Hague conference in January, the lecturer showed how it had further relieved Germany from irksome pressure and had re-established Austria to a great extent.

It had tended to make the different nations no longer allied or enemy forces, but rather friends and companions, Prof. Soward alleged.

ONUS ON U.S.

As to the actual payment of war debts, the speaker advanced the idea that in twenty years and the United States would have paid off all her debts and would be in a position to cancel those coming into her coffers.

However, there was grave uncertainty as to how Germany would meet her yearly payments, he added.

Greater conciliation between the Pope and the Italian state was the other outstanding step of the year, according to Prof. Soward. It released the Pope from being the "prisoner of the Vatican," and tended to weld these two closer together than they had been for scores of years. He outlined the clauses of the concordat and expressed great optimism over the outcome of the agreement.

It did not, however, remove all causes of contention, the speaker added, but at least it stood as a concrete step towards better feeling in that nation.

OTHER OPTIMISTIC SIGNS

Other signs of a brighter future were seen in the success of the League of Nations last year. In that great Britain had taken a leading part, the speaker noted. By approving the optional clause, submitting legal questions to the world court, she had paved the way for approximately thirty-five other nations in that matter.

Outside of Europe, he saw hopeful evidence of world peace in the progress of South Africa, Egypt and India. China had belied the promise it had shown in the early part of 1928, the speaker stated, but he was not without hope that some leader would arise among the Chinese and accomplish the task of moulding it into a comparatively unified nation.

Russia, busy with her domestic affairs, had not played an outstanding part in world affairs of the year, Prof. Soward concluded. Just at present she was on the eve of the most daring experiment in history. Its success depended on the land's ability to secure finances and upon the leaders and peasantry of the nation. Its socialism of agriculture and its pure communism were being observed with great care by the outside countries, Prof. Soward stated. He ventured no opinion on how the experiment might turn out.

A. B. Sanders, president of the association, thanked the lecturer for his address.

RESTITUTION

To the Editor:—When the full story has been told about the work of unscrupulous brokers selling short against their clients and the public during the past few years, it will no doubt be found that some of the brokers have amassed many millions of dollars by this practice.

A nominal fine or jail sentence will still leave them in possession of their ill-gotten wealth. Presumably they will be made to pay income tax on these profits, but I would suggest that the rate should be eighty per cent or more, instead of the regular rate.

During the war excess profits were taxed at a special rate, even although they were earned honestly. Does not the present situation warrant a special amendment to the income tax act, by which the excessive profits, amounting to many millions of dollars, obtained by brokers through unscrupulous and illegal methods, should be returned to the government? And what simpler means exists than through income tax?

Such a move would surely have the support and sympathy of the public at large, whether or not victims of the methods only so recently exposed.

RIFFLE ROCK

To the Editor:—To say the building of bridges and opening up a road via Seymour Narrows is a work of vast magnitude is to state what are not facts. The difficulties would have been greater when our ideas of road building were not so well understood. To-day with modern appliances the work is far more easy, and not of such great magnitude. No work connected with it as difficult as the building of the P.G.E.

I favor leaving Riffle Rock alone.

STAGE VS. TALKIES

To the Editor:—Wasn't Mr. Archibald's letter to the MacLeod Players rather a one-sided affair? Better companies than the MacLeod Players have come here and gone away disappointed at the size of the audiences.

The pantomime at Christmas was an excellent show, large cast, lots of scenery, yet the evening I was there the house was half empty and next day in The Times I read to my surprise they had had a capacity house. (No doubt The Times meant well.)

First of all, "Interference." The Cat and The Canary and "The Bat" have all been here as "talkies," and the people won't go and pay money to see them over again, especially the "thrillers," as they know what the outcome will be, which takes the "kick" out of the show.

There is no doubt that "talkies" are having a bad effect on the stage. Take the stars who have gone to Hollywood and who have been seen here recently in "talkies": Jack Buchanan, Clive Brook, Irene Ewing, George Arliss, Basil Rathbone, Maurice Chevalier and Marilwyn Miller—all shown to the best advantage in beautiful settings and lovely colorings. Shows that have been running on the New York stage at $11 a seat are now brought to you via the "talkies" at fifty cents. How can one compare the drabness of the ordinary theatre stage with these elaborate shows?

Of course, there is lots of room for improvement in the "talkies," but then they are only in their infancy. What we would like to see are some British "talkies"—"Blackmail" and "Atlantic" being two first-rate films, which, as yet, have not been shown here, and where does one find the tired business man these days? Why, in line to see the "Goldiggers of Broadway." Yes, this is the "talkie" age, and to relate.

RESERVED GALLERY SEATS

To the Editor:—In answer to Alice Wick's letter regarding the reserving of the seats in the ladies' gallery, I wish to say that exactly the same thing happened to myself and a friend some weeks ago. Many people were in the ladies' gallery, including some men with their wives. There were three empty seats in the front row. I was very politely told by one of the ushers that those seats were reserved. He told me that if I wished to go down and see Mr. Speaker, I would be allowed to sit there. I replied, "I certainly should not see Mr. Speaker, because I had a right to those seats. I also told him that they could not legally reserve those seats. However, my friend and I took the seats behind for the time being, as I wanted to see who took the seats. Very shortly two ladies came in and sat down. Evidently the seats did not suit, because one of them went out, and came back in a few minutes for her friend. The next thing I saw them seated on the floor of the House. Well, another lady came in and was told the same thing, but I heard her say she "was told she could sit there." Well, instead of going down and getting her pass, or whatever we are supposed to call it, she thought a second and then sat down. Needless to say my friend and myself followed suit.

The thing that struck me so very funny was that the ends of the seats were tied with string, and on the seats reposed—blue tickets, printed—"Reserved." I had heard a lot about red tickets, during the election campaign, though I had never seen them, but here were tickets sure enough staring me in the face, and not red, but blue! Well, since starting this note, I have seen a letter in The Times to Mrs. Wick, signed by the sergeant-at-arms, telling her that anyone can reserve those seats if they "phone before noon each day."

This is an outrage also. Anyone coming first has the right to three seats, and I should like to ask the members for Victoria to see that this is taken up on the floor of the House and stopped, or a note placed in the press to further trouble.

Everyone in British Columbia has equal rights to those seats. They were not reserved when John Oliver was in power, and should not be now.

I will suggest that something should be done to throw the sound up into the galleries more. Even in these front seats it is difficult to hear anything. This should not cost much, and the public has a right to some service. We are not asking for $110 chairs, or anything out of reason.

WANTS ROAD TO ALBERTA

Plea Made By Conservative Member For Kamloops in Budget Debate

While approving the construction of new highways that have already been built, J. R. Michell, Conservative, Kamloops, put in a strong argument in the Legislature yesterday for extension of the road up the North Thompson River to the Alberta boundary. Only thirty-eight miles of road at present served this well settled district, he stated. He also urged an immediate survey for a road from Mount Olie, in the North Thompson Valley, crossing the mountains westward to the Cariboo. Early completion of the bridge at Clearwater, where a dangerous condition existed for the ferry, was recommended.

Mr. Michell drew attention to the need of a new court house in Kamloops, the present building being hopelessly overcrowded. The building would cost $350,000, he said.

SELECTION OF SETTLERS

Edmonton, March 7.—No direct information has yet reached the Alberta Government as to the latest proposals from Ottawa, which will leave to the provinces the duty of deciding what immigrants they require from year to year, according to Premier Brownlee.

W. J. Egan, Federal Deputy Minister of Immigration, is expected in Edmonton March 10, when the Premier says, he anticipates a complete discussion of any proposals the Ottawa Government may have to make.

ANALYZE THE ALLOWANCE ON YOUR USED CAR

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must make up the difference by extra charges on the new car or re-sell it to some one else at too high a price

PERMANENT value is always better than a temporary bargain in the purchase of an automobile. It pays to look ahead and consider reliability and ultimate up-keep costs, as well as comfort, safety, speed, and beauty of line and color.

Since most automobiles are bought for replacement, the value set on your used car is a factor in almost every purchase. Frequently it is given an importance beyond its true worth.

Used cars have a definite market value and you are justly entitled to an allowance based on that value. It is not fair that you receive less. It is not to your best interests to receive more.

If a dealer pays you more than the true worth of the car he must either re-sell it to some one else at too high a price or make up the difference on the new car. This he cannot do unless he is allowed an excessive profit on the car or on financing, extra equipment and other charges. In either case, you pay the bill, for no way has yet been found to give something for nothing. The money must come from somewhere.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
(Copyright, 1930, by NEA Service, Inc.)
As a rule little children are pliable and easily led.

Often we hear the mother of a five or six-year-old child who is disobedient and unmanageable, exclaim that she can't understand it "because he was so good when he was younger."

Naturally she lays the trouble to some inborn contrariness that was late in developing, and of course we have to admit that perhaps some of it is.

But if we are to believe new theorists, who seem to have ample proof for their statements, we can largely discount the part that heredity plays. As a matter of fact, these children of five or six who become untractable after a babyhood of sweetness and submission are only too often victims of conditions and handling.

Sometimes these conditions are unavoidable. Long sickness and its resulting petting has been known to change the behavior slant of more than one good child.

Living conditions in crowded quarters, with older brothers or sisters who tease him, or who hold out none too good an example for him to imitate, is another reason for the metamorphosis.

HEALTH EFFECTS DISPOSITION

Ill-health itself has a proverbial effect on disposition.

And sometimes it is just plain spoiling.

But I believe the unfortunate transition between these two stages lies deeper than any of these things. I believe it is concerned almost entirely with the relationship between mother and child and the child's attitude toward his mother.

Up until four, the child is a baby. After four he isn't.

What causes the change?

The simple fact that his mind in the fourth year makes a new and rather sudden readjustment. He develops personality. He discovers that things do as he wills. It is a complicated process too involved to explain here so we'll have to accept the fact. It is enough to say that one of the things he tries to the utmost is the testing of his own will.

He will seek every opportunity to test his will against that of other people, and even animals. He decides that everyone and everything around him must do as he says, and that he can do as he wishes without obstruction.

WHEN MOTHERS FAIL

It is merely one of a series of great experiments nature stages to accomplish her programme of development.

It is at this ticklish stage of affairs that so many mothers unknowingly lose control. They continue to treat the child as a baby and fail to make a new adjustment themselves to the new condition.

A decided switch of tactics in handling is necessary at this time. We cannot go on expecting unquestioning docility any longer. Every look, act, and command of ours is going to be noticed, considered, and very probably questioned by the child.

We must begin to treat him, not as a puppet to dance to our strings, but as a rational being. And although we must continue to dominate him, it must be not by bossing but by letting him spell it in capitals—CO-OPERATION. That's the secret of obedience from the fourth year on.

Explain to him, talk to him, make a friend of him. Tell him "why" he must do as you want. Don't fight with him—ever. The only person to lose ground, eventually, will be yourself. Let him feel your power but show him that you will be reasonable, and he will be so, too.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. F. D. ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SHOULD SELDOM INTERFERE WITH CHILDREN'S FIGHTS

If children never fought, if they never bit and hit, snatched each other's playthings, teased or chased each other, we could be certain they weren't really human. Long before they reach the age when they smile while preferring to growl, and give up when they would rather hang on, they go through the perfectly natural period of trying to get all they can without scruple as to methods.

Parents are seemingly confused about how to deal with this battling stage, not only in their own family, but when complicated by neighbors. The following experiences are illuminating and interesting:

"I have boys of four and two years," writes Mrs. F. D. "We have a frequent visitor of three years who evidently has never been refused anything he wanted, whether good for him or not. The older children in his own family have no right at all."

"He does not fight when he comes over here, but when he wants a toy he says, 'I'll go home if you don't give it to me.' The children want him to stay and so give him what he wants."

"Recently I listened in, and when I heard him say this I insisted that he go home. That was two weeks ago, and I notice that he no longer makes that threat. I made it plain that each is to have his turn, and though it takes endless repetition, it really works after a time. I find them settling their disputes by saying, 'Let's each have a chance.' As for what the neighbor thinks when her child comes home sulking, I am not concerned. I don't want my children to grow up spineless."

The Woman's Day

New York City is a great place for millionaires and show girls, but it has never given the baby a square deal.

There is a constant war between the baby and the apartment house owner. The landlord never wants to rent to families with babies, and if the babies could speak up for themselves, they probably would say they were not so excited about the quarters.

For some time the apartment house owners have been winning the battles, but the babies are now about to have their inning. They have won the right through a court decision to ride up and down the elevators in their private perambulators.

Though this privilege applies specifically to six tenants in a Brooklyn apartment, and is not final until the decision is to be used as a precedent in all cases where baby carriages are barred from apartment house elevators.

Human rights should be held paramount to any arbitrary rights governing the use of the property, the judge said, and tenants should not be compelled to rent babies as freight or cargo, or should they be delivered to the basement and held there until the porter gets around to distributing them to their homes.

Certain observers pointed out that since dogs were allowed in the foyers and elevators, babies should be given equal rights as dogs if they were winning them. The youngsters of today are an up-and-coming bunch who have won their traction fights early in life.

GAY STOCKINGS

As a style note, it might be well to observe that the well-dressed woman is going in for ray colored stockings with her sports clothes, sponsored by no less an authority than Madame Schiaparelli, that prophet in wools.

For evening there are also delicate tints, ranging from a faint blush pink through the pastel blues, mauves, yellows and coral. Blending as they do with the slippers and frock, there is no harsh, contrasting line between pump and stocking, which is not so desirable with the long skirt as it is with the short.

For instance, suppose one starts for the courts in a white tennis dress. Instead of sun-tan hose or bare legs, she will wear bright colored stockings, in orange, kingfisher blue, rose—or any bright color one desires. They knit from the same hard, twisted yarns as crepes and tussahs, so that they look and feel like fabric.

Stocking dealers are specializing upon novelty effects, hoping that the 1930 summer skirt will not fall into her bare-legged fad of last season. It played havoc with stocking sales, and might be a precedent that would be hard to stop. They are to be forgiven if they try harder than ever to popularize novelty hosiery.

Chapter Plans Daffodil Dance

The monthly meeting of the Robert Burns McKellar Chapter, O.E.F., was held at the Municipal Rooms, Union Building, on Tuesday evening, with an attendance of twenty-two. The regent, Mrs. H. G. Bolt, occupied the chair. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were duly read and adopted, the latter reporting a balance of $91.75 in the bank.

Various plans were discussed regarding augmenting the chapter funds, and a favorable report was given by the committee in charge of the daffodil dance, which is to be given under the auspices of this chapter at the Amphion Hall on March 21. Len Acres' orchestra will supply excellent music, and the members are working hard to make this dance a monetary as well as a social success.

The treasurer, Miss Kathleen Tadmor, reported favorably on the sale of tickets for the hope chest, and the councillors were requested to ask for donations for the chest from the members within the next month.

Three new members were proposed before the business part of the meeting came to an end.

The rest of the evening was devoted to a discussion on the blind of Victoria, and the work the Robert Burns McKellar Chapter hopes to do in this connection. Miss McKellar, a teacher of the blind from Vancouver, and herself blind, very kindly attended this meeting, and gave an intensely interesting talk on the work done for the blind in this city. Miss McKellar also was most kind in answering many questions with regard to this work, and in explaining just how those unfortunate people who had lost their sight could be assisted and entertained. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Miss McKellar for her kindness in coming to this meeting.

Cars Are Eliminated As Maroons Cinch Canadian Title

THE SPORTS MIRROR

MUCH has been written about the Shamrock V, with which Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge for the America's Cup, world's premier yachting trophy, this summer, but to date little has been learned about the four defenders being built by the United States. Word has just been received from the east giving some of the particulars of construction of the four prospective defenders. It is intended to see the four yachts in a series of races, the winner of which will act as the U.S. representative in the races.

At City Island, on the easterly side of Pelham Bay, great scenes of activity are being witnessed at the present time. A dressmaking establishment is humming with the thrum of the needle and thread. It is making not exactly gowns, but the rigs of the four U.S. yachts. There is a huge lot of Rayon and Lapon, the sails of three of the defender-hopes have been completed, and 50,000 yards of canvas have been cut out into their making. These comprise the complete dressmaker, Yankee and Enterprise. Those of Whirlwind are in hand, under the expert supervision of George Lapey, artist on canvas without paint or brush. Under him in an enlarged lot, 200 by 75 feet, and large enough for one of the main sails of the cup boats to be laid out flat on the floor without a ripple, sit several score girls sewing on what is probably the nearest job of its kind anywhere. It is a spotless, dustless place.

After each strip of canvas is carefully cut and sewed and the sail completed it is neatly rolled into a bundle and carried to a specially built vault building, fire and damp proof. A spot of mold would mar the beauty of the sail. Each bundle is tagged and "spiced." There they will lie until the yachts are launched, their masts and rigging set up and they are ready for their canvas.

Each of the three cup boats has three or four masts ready, set of double lower headsails or jib and stay-sail, three jib topsails of varying size, and small balloons for reaching, spinnakers for running before the breeze and storm trysails. The latter are for emergency in the way of too much wind that may arise, while the balloons are for use in port, during their sail stretching and between races.

Most of the canvas is Sudan cotton, made in England. Sudan is domestic flax. It is no silken dream. In a large length it is flexible enough, but a small piece in its own unstretched state is about as stiff as cardboard. When thousands of feet of it are flown to a real breeze from one of these yachts, something tough is needed. The strips are triple sewed in the seams for strength and where the battens are, strips of canvas are placed under them. The battens are pieces of wood extending in from the leech, or rear part of the sail, to keep it taut and free from back-wind shake. It is figured that if a batten snaps it will merely tear out the extra strip of canvas under it and not the sail itself.

These suits of sails may be only the beginning. More are likely to be ordered after the boats step out. Sir Thomas Lipton's V is being made in England, but should any mishap befall them, new ones will be made in the United States.

Newport and Block Island Sound are to be smashed with boats during the defender trials and the international test according to reports from New York. In addition to the fleets of large yachts, motor craft and excursion boats there will be a naval display. The British Atlantic fleet has accepted an invitation to visit there and part of the United States battleship, cruiser and destroyer forces are to gather for the races.

One of the greatest mathematical brains in the world has been applied to the problem of golf. Sir James Macfarlane, for many years Director of Geophysical Research to the British Admiralty, is a golf enthusiast. But, like many others, he became bored with the manifold injunctions designed to produce the perfect swing of the club. Body, wrist, knee, head, shoulders, arms and feet—involved, and concentration on one is too apt to be at the expense of the others.

Emphasizing this, Sir James has produced a tiny device for fixing to the head of a driver. The device on the club was an arrangement of two mirrors. When the club is laid against the "tee" as the instant of impact—both mirrors gleamed brightly in the lamp's rays, and when the club is moved over so slightly one way or the other the light on one mirror is extinguished. Just as the club-head reaches the "ball" in the course of a swing the mirrors flash. Sometimes one is in advance, sometimes the other, indicating "pulling" and "sliding." A "mothered" shot was revealed, and a light shot—and when a player fails to keep his eyes on the ball, there are no flashes at all! "Sir James' gadget" is to be marketed for a few shillings.

Three Splendid Wrestling Matches Scheduled To-morrow Evening

All roads will lead to the Tillamook gymnasium, 1305 Broad Street, to-morrow night, where Bob Kruse, Portland mat man, and one of the leading grapplers in coast circles, will match his knowledge against George McLeod, Nebraska thunderbolt, in the eight-round main event of an all-star card.

Supporting the main card is Walter Johnson, Minneapolis, and Fred Mortenson, Portland. This pair promise to make things very interesting indeed, as it will be a case of youth against experience.

Roy Lyness, youthful exponent of the mat game, will meet Jack Mitchell, Longview sensation, in the curtain raiser, a three-round argument at 135 pounds.

Tickets have been moving rapidly and, indications are that there will be another bumper house. The first bout starts at 8:45 o'clock.

Three World's Swim Records Are Shattered

Liza Lindstrom, of New York, set a new mark in the 300-yard free style; Josephine McGinn, of Los Angeles, set a new record in the 250-yard free style; and Helen Madison, sixteen-year-old Seattle sensation, clipped more than five seconds from the existing world mark in the 200-meter distance.

FOXY PHANN

As a man thinks so he is, unless his wife changes his mind

He told of the progress of the game in Canada and the trip of the two Montreal players, Willard Crocker and Jack Wright, to the Wimbledon championships at the request of the Wimbledon committee. Dr. Boak drew attention to the Canadian Championships which are to be held this year in Toronto. Curiously enough, eastern tennis officials admitted that the championships, from a financial standpoint, could be held to better advantage on the coast. Vancouver will probably have the tournament in 1931, with Regina holding the meet in 1932. The Manitoba centre has recently completed one of the most elaborate tennis plants in Canada and will be well adapted to hold the most important tournament in Canadian tennis.

The president's remarks also dealt with the progress of Victoria tennis players in the Northwest and in the ranking list. He mentioned in the ranking the new Pan-Pacific Tennis Tournament, which is being inaugurated at Honolulu late this month, and how that three players had been selected to represent Canada and that one of them was a member of the Victoria club.

Fred Jackson, secretary-treasurer of the club, presented the balance sheet, which was adopted. The report showed the club had nearly two hundred senior active members and over ninety juniors.

A resolution presented, suggesting a reduced entrance fee for the coming three months, was adopted to increase the present membership, which is as large as in recent years. Fifty-six new members were enrolled in the club last year, irrespective of the juniors.

G. G. Began, re-elected to the vice-presidency, replaced Dr. Boak in the chair and conducted the meeting from the presentation of the minutes. He added that Dr. Boak had neglected to say in his report on the Toronto meeting that he had been elected to the western vice-presidency of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association.

One of the facts not hitherto mentioned, was the offer of Japanese in Vancouver to post a large bond as a guarantee to bring the Davis Cup matches to Vancouver should Canada defeat Japan in the 1931 series. Tennis has a large Japanese following in the mainland city and their interest in the game is explained by the offer which is as great as the eastern body have posted for the same event.

Quite an animated discussion took place over the membership and the various ways to increase the enrolment, which, it was admitted, was not as large as it might be. One suggestion was that the club expend money to improve the club house and make it more attractive to prospective members. Several members were of the opinion that the fees should not be reduced as an inducement to new members, as they were considered quite low enough and that the club was the biggest and best in the city and should not lower the fees in order to increase the number of members. Another suggestion called for an elaborate advertising campaign. Mr. Brown in the chair, remarked that the committee had always tried to get new members, but their efforts had not always been rewarded by success.

Although the membership of the club was practically the same as in the previous year, the financial standing of the club was far more secure and the bank balance was far ahead of last year's.

The B.C. Junior Championships were also discussed and it was pointed out by Dr. Boak that they would not be held in Victoria again for at least a few years. The B.C.L.T.A. had seen fit to spread the final event away from Victoria and award it to any club in the province that applied and was affiliated with the association. Point Grey and all probability would get the championships this year. It was stated that Vancouver was highly in favor of the B.C. championships being held alternately on the Island and in Vancouver. Victoria first inaugurated the tournament in 1907 and has had the event yearly since then.

C. H. Rayment, president of the Lower Island Badminton League, said that interested badminton players in Victoria had met on several occasions with the idea of building a new hall that would house badminton and squash courts. The interest shown in the game this winter indicated that the time had arrived for an up-to-date hall to be built.

Mr. Rayment said that his group had drawn up plans and hoped that the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club turn over the vacant lots to the new group with the object of securing an option for an outright purchase, the price to be the equivalent of the taxes. The off-badminton season. After a discussion of the matter it was decided to place it before the new committee for their consideration.

The officers of the club for the year follow: Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce, honorary president; Mrs. James Dunsen, General Sir Percy Lake, Mayor Herbert Anson, Judge Lampman, R. P. Butcher, Charles F. Todd and Dr. A. B. Hudson, honorary vice-presidents; Dr. E. W. Boak, president; J. G. Brown, vice-president; C. H. Rayment, Miss Mona Miller, R. A. Tenney, Rev. S. Byall, K. R. Strainfield, D. M. Gordon and R. E. A. Despecker, executive committee.

When a call for entries went out at the meeting it was found that five clubs are ready to seek the league championship this season, namely: Jokers, Sons of Canada, Eagles, Tillamook and Elks. The latter will be the new performers in the league this season. After entering the league last Tuesday night as the Victoria Capitals, an application was granted yesterday evening to change the name of the club to the Elks. This club will be composed of practically all the players who were with the Capitals last season, and will be one of the most formidable clubs in the league. The Capitals two years ago captured the senior "B" championship of British Columbia, while last year they won the Island title, but were defeated in the B.C. finals.

After announcing on Tuesday night that they would not field a club this season the management of the Jokers have reconsidered and have decided to defend the title they won for the first time last season. Sidney is the only member of last year's league who will not be competing again this year.

The league executive decided to follow its last year's policy in allowing all women admittance to the league free of charge. There will be no season tickets this season for adults, but children's tickets will be available at a nominal charge.

The president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer were named as a grounds committee, to which will be added a delegate from each of the clubs.

The league decided to use two umpires for all league games and adopted the Spalding ball as their official ball.

Scots Depending On Heavy Field For Forward Game

With two of their best backfield men missing, Canadian Scottish ruggers are hoping for a heavy field to make their game with Ex-King at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow.

In the pack the locals appear to have a stronger division than their opponents, but in the backfield they will be up against one of the smoothest-working machines in Provincial rugby. If the ground leaving the field with a victory.

However, even in the scrum they will by no means have a walk-away over their Mainland rivals, since several of the forwards on the Vancouver fifteen have made the "rep" team.

In the curtain raiser, Victoria College, B.C. intermediate champions, will start up the second half of their schedule with a game against the Y.M.C.A. The match will start at 2 o'clock.

The teams will line up as follows:

Victoria Position Vancouver
Art Engel, Fullback Bob Rowan
Oliver, Three-quarter Lyle Barr
Pugh, Three-quarter Reg. Welman
Bern Kinsman, Halfback Murray Rowan
Jack Horne, Halfback G. Niblo
Pettit, Halfback Hec McGowan

WEST ROAD TO ACT AS HOSTS

Three Basketball Games Are Scheduled at Suburban Hall To-morrow Night

Three basketball games are to be played at the West Road Hall on Saturday night, with Shawinigan Lake appearing against the home intermediate and women's teams, and Keating opposing the West Road seniors.

In the women's game the West Road girls should have little trouble chalking up a win, as they are a more experienced team. The victors have played several fine games against local teams on their home floor, but they have not shown much form on any local floor this year.

The West Road intermediates should also take a victory as to date they have shown great ability at shooting baskets on their own gymnasium. Tommy Peden and his band of hoopers seem to be able to sink the ball from every corner of the floor, and to give them an open shot is dangerous. The Shawinigan boys were defeated in the Island play-offs, but since that time have taken the strong James Island five into camp.

OLD RIVALS MEET
The senior game will find the old rivals Keating and West Road doing battle. Whenever these two teams meet, there is plenty of action and to-morrow night's game is not expected to be an exception.
The probable starting line-up follows: Shawinigan women—A. Gibson, R.

New York, N.Y., March 7.—The Detroit Cougars finally lost their last mathematical chance of getting into the play-offs in the American division of the National Hockey League. Although practically eliminated some time ago, the Cougars clung to the possibility until yesterday evening when they lost to the New York Americans, 1-0.

CUP MATCHES TO FEATURE SOCCER CARD

Jokers Will Play Esquimaux While Thistles Meet City To-morrow

Win Over Dockers Will Help Jokers; Junior and Juveniles Will Be Busy

In the two senior football fixtures scheduled for to-morrow afternoon, the Jokers and Esquimaux will play at Beacon Hill, and the Saanich Thistles and Victoria will meet at Central Park in Combination Cup matches. Both games will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

By winning their match to-morrow from Esquimaux, the Jokers, holders of second place in the series, can creep to within a single point of the league-leading Victoria Wests, who will be idle. However, Esquimaux will no doubt provide plenty of opposition. The other match appears almost a cinch for the Thistles, the City team failing to show much form this season.

Four games will be played in the Junior League, while the juveniles have a like number of matches carded. The junior and juvenile matches follow:

JUNIOR LEAGUE
Y.M.C.A. vs. Victoria City, upper Beacon Hill.
Oaklands vs. Royal Oak, Spencer's Park.
James Island vs. Sidney, at James Island.
Esquimaux vs. K. of C., at Victoria West.

Five C's vs. Maple Leafs, at Beacon Hill.
Langford vs. Saanich Thistles, at Langford postponed.

New York, N.Y., March 7.—The Detroit Cougars finally lost their last mathematical chance of getting into the play-offs in the American division of the National Hockey League. Although practically eliminated some time ago, the Cougars clung to the possibility until yesterday evening when they lost to the New York Americans, 1-0.

Detroit made a game struggle to hang on a little longer, but when there were only 5 1/2 minutes of the game left and Reg. Noble was in the penalty box, little Norman Himes, high scorer of the lowly American team, poked in the only goal from a scrimmage.

Another shutout yesterday evening, with "Flat" Walsh starting in the goal, left the Montreal Maroons safe at the head of the Canadian division. The victims were the Montreal Canadiens, holders of second place in the division, who went down by a 4-0 count.

Walsh, replacing Clint Benedict, who decided yesterday to play no more hockey this year because of a serious facial injury received earlier in the season, was the star of the game, while the Maroons as a whole completely outplayed their Montreal rivals to take their fourth victory in the six games between the teams.

Montreal, March 7.—Montreal Maroons shut out their inter-city rival, the Canadiens, 4-0, before a record crowd here yesterday evening. It was the sixth time they had met and the fourth victory for the Maroons. The Canadiens failed to come up to the pace set by the Maroons at any period of the game.

The game put the Maroons safely into first place, four points ahead of the Cougars, who missed the chance to tie the Maroons for sectional leadership.

Asahis Resign From Vancouver Senior Baseball

Vancouver, March 7.—H. Coughland was elected president of the Vancouver Senior Amateur Baseball League at the annual meeting of that organization here yesterday evening. W. G. Bentham was chosen vice-president, and Stan Smith secretary-treasurer. The Japanese entry, Asahis, resigned from the league yesterday evening, and it was announced that B.C. Telephone may take their place in this season's schedule. Other business transactions were only of a routine character.

Horse Racing

Arna Caliente, March 7.—Trise, a son of the great Omar Khayyam, from the stable of Lewis and Kemp, won the Centennial Handicap at Arna Caliente yesterday. Only five runners accepted the work by the mile and sixteenth, with Trise, Seab's Hope and Call Hope equal favorites, and that is the only race in which they finished. Madison Dix Wins Over Former Champ

Scheme of Greasing Fighter's Body Was Slick, But They Forgot One Important Spot

Twenty-seven years ago, Spider Kelly and I handled Sam Pruitt, a 263-pound colored fighter. Sam had words of stuff in the gym. But he didn't cheer a bit when we announced a match for him with Bob Armstrong. Armstrong was perhaps the best of the colored heavyweights. He was a hard hitter, mighty tough, and clever enough to be in demand as a sparring partner for Fitzsimmons, Jeffries and Sharkey.

The Spider and I had to bring our most persuasive powers into use to keep Pruitt in line. Eventually, we told him we could make him win, if he'd accept the match and just leave everything to us. Sam did.

The night of the match we brought into Sam's dressing-room a can of axle grease—the dark kind, incidentally. We smeared Sam's body with this. What could be easier? Every time Armstrong would hit Pruitt, the blows would slip off and do no damage. So we told Sam. And he was tickled. "Ain't Armstrong sure going to be puzzled?" chuckled Sam. "He won't know what's the matter."

"You two sure is the foxiest fight handlers I ever did see. From now on, you handle me in all of my fights. Mister Spider, would you all put some more of that grease on my back so he can't hang on?"

A little mistake is said to have cost Napoleon a Waterloo victory. A little mistake on our part lost the fight for Sam Pruitt. When the first round was on, we discovered—too late—that we had forgotten to grease one spot, his nose. Armstrong's first healthy punch caught Sam on the beaver and brought blood.

Sam, a quick thinker, discovered the error, and tried ducking and dancing to draw Armstrong into hitting somewhere else. But Armstrong was nobody's dumbbell, discovered the grease, and also Sam's one dry spot. He cracked the nose every chance he got—which was every few seconds.

Sam returned to his corner, bleeding profusely, and discouraged. Spider and I, while working to stop the blood, talked as seconds do to make Sam think he was winning.

Sam didn't seem convinced. Looking at me reproachfully, he said: "Mister Edison, your invention don't seem to be working very well."

Jack Underhill and Radford Gain Semis In Badminton Play

Coast Badminton Players Have Fine Opportunity of Lifting Canadian Championships at Ottawa; Jack Underhill Is Drawn Against Jack Purcell, Defending Titleholder; Eileen George and Jack Underhill Advance to Semi-finals in Mixed Doubles.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Ont., March 7.—Many strong pairs took part in the first round play of the women's doubles event in the Canadian badminton championships here this morning. Mrs. E. F. Coke and Mrs. C. A. Boone, Toronto, present Ontario champions, disposed of Miss D. Walker and Mrs. F. S. Mathieson of Montreal in straight games although in the second frame the Montreal pair forced the winners to advantage points.

The Winnipeg team of Miss B. Armstrong and Miss H. Armstrong took their match from Mrs. H. Sedgwick of Toronto, and Miss Helen Grant of St. Catharines, by 15-12, 15-5.

The most unlooked-for upset of the play yesterday occurred in the third round of the women's singles when Miss Ruth Robertson of Ottawa defeated from the tourney list Miss Eileen George of Vancouver, 1928 champion, in straight games.

FORMER CHAMPS IN

Three former Canadian champions entered the semi-final round play of the men's singles. Jack Purcell of Toronto, 1928 crown holder, being drawn to meet J. J. Alkman of Montreal, 1926 and 1927 singles champion is slated to meet Noel Radford of Vancouver, Vancouver city champion, in the semi-final round matches to-night.

In yesterday evening's play Noel Radford advanced, but only after R. Sedgwick of the Toronto Granite Club, had forced the Pacific Coast star to the very limit of his game. The score was 15-8, 15-18, 15-12. Alkman in his march to the semi-final round of play was successful over T. B. Hayle of Oakville, and R. Phalen of Toronto, two strong players. Jack Purcell, defending champion, was in sterling form, marching through his match with Ber. Mitchell, the hard-hitting Ottawa, by 15-12, 15-1.

Quick Stop Gives Chance For Basket

BY SOL METZGER

Football fans will get a great kick out of basketball if they sense the similarity of the two sports. Yesterday we compared two basketball plays with two we had seen in football. Here's another. Ever see a back breaking down the side-lines chased by an opponent who was slightly behind and coming in at an angle for him?

The clever back will change his pace, if he hasn't enough speed to outrun the tackler, and seek to cut in behind the tackler. Basketball players do much the same thing. Take Michigan, for example, on its quick break following possession of the ball on a rebound. Her tall centre, taking the long pass, will dribble if free. Last year as he neared the foul-line he noted an opponent coming in for him at an angle from the rear,

ROLICKING PLAY OPENS TO-NIGHT

"Come Out of the Kitchen"
By Victoria College Players' Club

"Come Out of the Kitchen," which the Victoria College Players' Club will present at the Victoria High School to-night and to-morrow night at 8.15 o'clock, is a rollicking comedy, teeming with fun and incongruities, and tempered with a certain amount of pathos. The story, which only a few weeks ago was adapted for film presentation by Paramount, deals with the relations of Northern and Southern American, of employer and employee, of rich and poor. It centres around a Virginian mansion, which is owned by the poverty-stricken Dangerfields, a house which is rented by them to a millionaire from New York. What subsequently happens will cause great hilarity. By the course of events the Dangerfields become—as the audience will see—somewhat thinly disguised servants in their own mansion, and are ejected singly by their fate. The play is a beautiful and young coquette, is left. A marriage follows, but which of the lovers is successful? At any rate, the millionaire's holiday trip turns out, as he puts it, "a perpetual three days riot."

THE ROLES
The exacting and difficult part of the beautiful Virginia Olivia Dangerfield, who by a reversal of fortune becomes the coquettish Jane, is played by Miss Mary Martin. Opposite to her, as Burton Crane, the Yankee millionaire, and the new tenant of the mansion, owned by the impoverished Dangerfields, is Jack Rutan, who, like the rest, falls in love with this "Dresden china shepherdess," and acts somewhat strangely in her presence. The incongruous situations of the play are accentuated by the appearance of a disagreeable Yankee dame, Mrs. Falconer, played by Miss Peace Cornwell, who is anxious to marry her daughter, Cora (Miss Helen Harris), to their rich host. However, Cora loves a poor statistical poet, Tom Lefferts (George Hall), who is rated as poison by the mother. The pompous lawyer, Solon Tucker (Frederick Green), is hardly a more pleasant guest than his sister, Mrs. Falconer. Pitted against these unpopular Northerners, and led by the wit of one of their sisters, Olivia, are the young members of the Dangerfield family, whose fortunes are influenced by the illness, in Europe, of their father. The role of Paul, the elder brother, is taken by Edmund Knicker. Along with him descend the elder sister, Elizabeth (Marguerite Van Vooght), and the mischievous and irrepressible schoolboy, Charlie Dangerfield—the former to the position of housemaid, and the latter to that of the usual boy Randle Weeks, played by Denis Humphries, appears as a loyal friend of this family in their adversity, but eventually is jilted by the irresistible Jane Ellen. The cast is rounded off by Amanda (Kathleen Johnston), the affectionate and rotund "mammy," whose comic appearance should cause many laughs.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice:
Don't take strong medicines, artificial dietetics or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomach free from sourness and acidity and keep your stomach sweet and clean.
And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every day a course of the harmless, inexpensive, and handy tablet form of Mergal which promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.
A week's trial of Bismarck Mergal tablets, which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that 50 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bismarck Mergal Tablets. (Adv.)

SAFETY TALKS ARE FINISHED

Cycling Expert Addresses High School Students To-day; Contests To-morrow

This morning Fred St. Onge, Toronto cycling expert, who is conducting a safety campaign in Victoria, gave an address and demonstration before the pupils of the Victoria High School. This concluded the school demonstrations, Mr. St. Onge having previously spoken before the pupils of all the city public schools.

To-morrow the big outdoor demonstration and contests will be conducted at the Royal Athletic Park, commencing at 10 o'clock. Hundreds of boys and girls will be seen in competition for the many prizes to be given in the joyous racing, plank riding, and test and newspaper delivery contest. In the last contest staged when Mr. St. Onge visited Victoria two years ago, 400 riders attempted to cover the narrow plank. The contest was won by Gilbert Post, a student at the Victoria High School, with Margaret Becklick, of Sir James Douglas School, finishing second. Movie camera men will film the events to-morrow for the news weeklies.

THANKS TENDERED
Yesterday Mr. St. Onge received the following telegram from the British Columbia Safety League:
"On our behalf, please thank Mr. Deane, municipal inspector of schools, and the principals for their cordial response and interest in your lectures and demonstrations in schools of Victoria. Not only in own self-protection but from the standpoint of good sportsmanship and 'playing the game' with motorists should cyclists abandon their careless traffic habits." (Signed) British Columbia Safety League, Percy Abell, manager.

JIM BAGBY'S WORLD SERIES VICTORY WAS FREAKIEST GAME EVANS EVER SAW

Describes How Dame Fortune Favored Pitcher Against Brooklyn

One Triple and Three Double Plays Pulled Bagby Out of Nasty Holes

By BILLY EVANS
The freakiest pitched ball game I can recall among more than 3,000 games in which I officiated as an American League umpire goes back to the world series of 1920 between Cleveland and Brooklyn. Jim Bagby was the pitcher in that game, and I never could quite make up my mind as to whether Jim should have felt proud or ashamed of that performance.

It was in 1920, you will remember, that Bagby won thirty-one games for Cleveland. That is a lot of games on the winning side of the ledger, and any pitcher who accomplishes the feat must be blessed with more than average luck. Bagby surely had it that year. If he blanked the opposition, the Indians would somehow manage to get one or more runs. If the opposition found Jim for eight runs, the Indians would find ways and means to get him nine or more.

Bagby's good luck continued with him in the 1920 world series, though for a time it seemed as if Dame Fortune intended to elude him nothing but frowns. Selected to pitch the second game of the series, Bagby was pitted against Burleigh Grimes. He held Brooklyn better to face him but in seven innings, but in the meantime Cleveland bats, that usually spoke loudly with Bagby working, had been silent under the mastery of Grimes' deceptive spitball. Bagby was beaten, 3-0.

It was Bagby's turn to start the fifth game. The series at that time was all even. Probably never in the history of a world series game was a winning pitcher batted as savagely as was Bagby that afternoon. It seemed as if every Brooklyn batter to face him hit the ball on the nose. The Dodgers made thirteen hits, yet could score only one run. Cleveland won the ball game, 8-1, even though it made one hit less than Brooklyn.

As a matter of fact, Bagby should have been credited with a shutout. Brooklyn scored a run in the ninth, when a ground ball that "Doc" Johnston should have handled, retiring the side, was credited as a hit and resulted in a run. I am told Jim took "Doc" to the clubhouse after the game, while the rest of the club roared with laughter.

It seemed as if the bases were loaded with Brooklyn players all afternoon, but something would invariably happen to erase them from the picture. I might also add, in this freak ball game, that a throw from Jamieson to Steve O'Neill, cutting off a run at the plate. On another momentous occasion, when the bases were loaded, no out and several Cleveland pitchers hastily warming up, Bill Wambagans made his now famous triple play unassisted to retire the side. I might also add, in this freak ball game, Elmer Smith made his now famous home run in the first inning with the bases filled. Burleigh Grimes threw him a spitball that didn't carry enough saliva to break properly and Smith did the rest. To add to the gaiety of the occasion Bagby himself made a home run.

On the verge of being driven to the showers in almost every inning, Bagby really should have scored a shutout. This game was the turning point, as it removed Grimes, Brooklyn ace, from the picture and Cleveland won the sixth game and the series the following day, 1-0. Turn back the baseball pages and try to find another game like it from a "freak" standpoint.

Western Snooker Champion Leading

Montreal, March 7.—A. C. Ball, professional snooker champion of Western Canada, was leading by five games to three yesterday evening in his two-day match with A. de Foyes, Eastern Canadian Champion for the Canadian title. The match will end to-night.

And Even the Kilt

Special Dispatch to The Victoria Times
Glasgow, March 7.—Why do Scotsmen wear kilts? Because it's a saving investment. Lord Colum Cruchton Stuart, Scottish M.P., says that "From a lifelong experience I can assure you that it is a most economical garment." Although they sometimes cost more than $100, they are seldom worn out during a lifetime.

LIONS AND BUCKS STILL DEADLOCKED

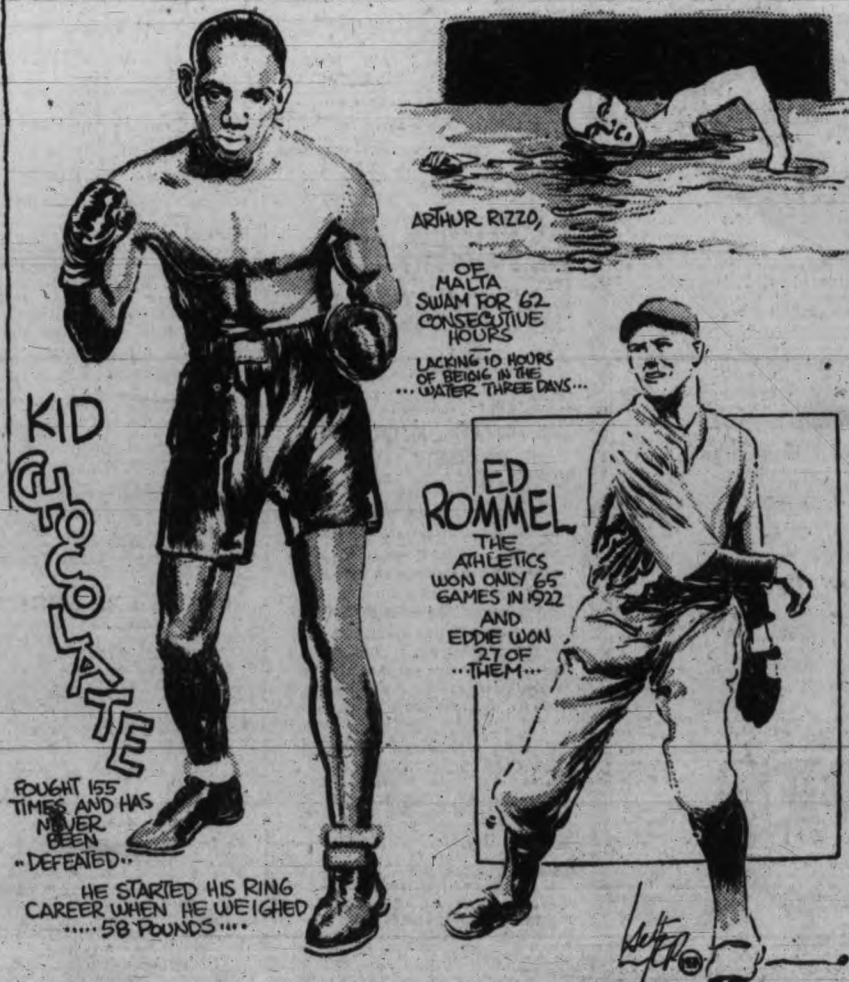

Leaders in P.C.H.L. Battle to Scoreless Draw in Clean Game at Portland

Vancouver Has Chance to Go Ahead By Victory Over Seattle This Evening

Portland, Ore., March 7.—With the Vancouver Lions, who fought to a scoreless overtime tie with the Portland Buckaroos here yesterday evening, matched with the Eskimos at Seattle to-night, the deadlock Pacific Coast Hockey League leadership appeared due for a shakeup.

Vancouver and Portland are tied for the top rung of the circuit standings, with forty points each. A tie with Seattle would put the Lions one point ahead of the Bucks, a victory for the British Columbians would make their advantage two points. On the other hand, a victory for the Eskimos would leave the league leadership deadlocked. Brilliant defensive playing by goalies Aitkenhead of Portland and Percy Jackson of Vancouver accounted largely for the scoreless contest here yesterday evening. One of the fastest and cleanest games ever played on the Coliseum ice. Both teams fought hard but seemed unable to penetrate tight defences, and when they did, they ran up against impenetrable barriers in the form of the net tenders. Twice Portland threatened seriously, once in the first period and once in the third session. In the first Coupez cut through the Vancouver defence to a position directly in front of the Lion goal. He shot but Jackson cut the puck dead.

Bobby Jones On Golf

Having just returned from Savannah, where Horton Smith picked up a little more cash by winning a 27-hole competition from a good field, I am aware of a number of things that I have learned, and all of them have to do with the main fact—that there is nothing in the world which will show up weaknesses and defects so glaringly as a seventy-two-hole medal test in fast company. The weather at Savannah was of the perfect summer variety, the greens were as true as velvet, and the field was among the best. Under these conditions I was able to learn more about the condition of my game than a month's practice and casual play would have told me.

The main difficulty which beset me in Savannah was a tendency to hook all the big wood shots when I was going out for all the distance I could cover. It did not require long to discover the reason, but it was impossible to correct the trouble permanently during competition. Before each round I repaired to the practice tee with an ample supply of balls which I drove out until I began to hit them straight, but the correction never lasted longer than the first long hole or the first hole to be played against the wind when a long shot was of advantage. The very necessity of a long straight drive made it impossible for me to produce one.

HIP GAIN LEAD AT START OF DOWNSTROKE

My troubles at Savannah and those of any number of other players elsewhere were caused by a lazy or resistant left side. Long ago I had the feeling that a persistent tendency to hook was produced by a stubborn left hip which failed to remove itself from the way or which by locking or bracing resisted the turn of the body. Expressed differently, a hook is produced by the body turn in the downstroke which delays so that the proper relation between body movement and arm movement is lost. The left leg acts as a brace when the power of the stroke is delivered, but it braces only after the hips have turned well past the position of address. If it braces before that, if there has been a full turn going back, a hook will result.

A close study of slow motion movies discloses the fact that in almost every expert case the body leads the arms and clubhead during the hitting stroke. At the instant of contact the hips have turned so that they are more nearly squared to the hole than they were in the position of address. This lead of the hips is gained from the instant that the downstroke is commenced and motion pictures of myself show that there is a noticeable turn of my hips before the club itself is moved perceptibly.

Restricted hip-motion or body turn can be of effect in two ways, depending upon whether it occurs in the backswing or in the hitting stroke. If it is late in the hitting stroke, as I have described it, results in hooking. But if there is not a free turn going back, the player is forced to swing too abruptly upward, outside the proper line, and he becomes a slicer. The effort to turn backward to a position where the player's back is presented to the hole, and an equally free turn forward, and the forward turn must take place in advance of the arm motion and that of the club.

A Question

About the Child at School

Does he say, "I can't see the board"? If he does, Mother should be notified and his eyes examined promptly. Oculists know that many cases of eyestrain which affect the whole life, COME while in school when the children strain at the blackboard, not realizing that they do not see as well as others. Best to make sure: have their eyes examined by one of our optical practitioners, and if glasses are required buy here to advantage. Time payments arranged for those who wish this convenience. —Optical Department.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A remand until Tuesday was granted in the case of Edward Rainald, arraigned in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of assaulting his wife.

The Saanich police commission last night purchased from Fyvie Brothers five tunics and pairs of breeches for the police force, the price being $280 for twenty-four ounce serge.

The Victoria Musical Festival Association yesterday evening applied to the Saanich Council for a grant of $125 towards the expenses of the forthcoming festival. The request was tabled pending consideration of the annual estimates.

The case against Eric Horsfall, charged with breaking and entering a garage and stealing articles, was withdrawn on the request of the United States Immigration authorities, who took steps to deport the accused in the City Police Court this morning.

A small inside fire in Maplehurst, a boarding house at the corner of Blanshard and Pembroke Streets, was extinguished before it had a chance to spread by the Victoria fire department this morning. The alarm was turned in at 8.30 o'clock.

By kindness of the University Extension Committee, the Vancouver Island Prospector's Association has arranged for an illustrated lecture on the Topple-Richfield area by Dr. T. C. Phemister of the University of British Columbia. The address will be in the Arts and Crafts Clubroom, Union Bank Building, on Saturday, March 8, at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

An interesting programme has been arranged for the concert to be given at Knox Presbyterian Church, this evening, to which vocal solos will be contributed by Mrs. T. H. Johns, soprano; Mrs. S. M. Morton, contralto; G. H. Llewellyn, tenor; and Dr. H. Johns, bass; humorous selections by A. H. Adams and trombone solos by Fred Townsend.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Boy Scouts' Association of Victoria was held in the Memorial Hall, Vancouver, street, on Thursday with a good representation of members. The report of the silver tea held at the home of the commission and Misses Havelhill was very gratifying. A committee was formed of the officers to take charge of tea at the opening of the new scout headquarters on Johnson Street some time early in April.

On behalf of a committee of the Real Estate Board, Major K. B. Spurr, president, yesterday appeared before the Saanich Council for aid in the construction of trails for horseback riding. He suggested the municipality should provide scrapers, teams, road-making equipment and operators for the work, asserting horseback riding to be destined to become a great attraction for well-to-do tourists. The matter was tabled.

WILLIAM HARRIGAN HAS LEADING ROLE AT THE PLAYHOUSE

"Everyone," says William Harrigan, Fox Movietone actor, "wears a mask. No matter who they are or what they do, people never reveal their real selves to the world. The successful dramatist, for instance, recognizes this—as a consequence when the public praises the realism and humanness of his actors, it is really because he portrays the dual nature of every character."

"In O'Neill's play, 'The Great God Brown,' which I appeared in the cast recently before entering pictures, the playwrights use actual masks in some of the scenes, and the actors symbolize this duality by wearing these paper-mache disguises."

"While there is, of course, no special resemblance between this drama and 'Nix on Dames,' my first Fox Movietone picture, nevertheless the film story deals in a large measure with this dual phase."

"Nix on Dames" is now being shown at the Playhouse.

"CREAKING CHAIR" THRILLS PATRONS AT THE ROYAL

At the Royal Theatre this week "The Creaking Chair" is proving a great attraction. Thrilled at one moment, the tension of the play is relieved the next moment by comedy which elicits roars of laughter the next. The excitement of the play is maintained up to the moment the curtain falls.

Next week a comedy entitled "Meet the Wife" will be presented, in which Lillian Christie will play the leading role. Gordon McLeod, Ernest Bodkin, Margaret St. Barthelemy, Claude Bailey and Roland Gillett are in the supporting cast, with James McGrath producing the play for the Gordon McLeod Players.

A scene in being specially made for this production, in which, also, some very pretty dresses will be worn by the ladies.

"Meet the Wife" was a great success both in New York and London.

Muskrats Now May Be Trapped

An open season for muskrats on Vancouver Island is provided by the following amendment to the game regulations recently approved:

"Muskrats—In those portions of Vancouver Island lying to the east of the main line of the Canadian National Railway from the City of Victoria to the east end of Cowichan Lake; thence due north to the Chehalis River; thence following said river in an easterly direction to its mouth; open season from March 1, 1930, to April 15, 1930, both dates inclusive."

The regulations provide that a hunter must have a trapper's license. Farmers whose crops are being destroyed may obtain special permits and do not require hunting licenses.

GOLD RESERVE AT OTTAWA AT LOWER LEVEL

Banks' Total Deposit Jan. 31 Was $32,580,866, Decrease of $23,500,000

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 7.—Decrease of $23,500,000 in the amount of gold held by Canadian banks in the central gold reserve during the month of January is shown in a statement issued by the Finance Department to-day. The deposits of the banks in the Central Gold Reserve at the end of December amounted to $56,080,866. At the end of January, 1930, the total deposit amounted to $32,580,866. The sum of $23,500,000, consequently was released during the month.

At the Department of Finance it was explained the deposit in the Central Gold Reserve is held there against excess note circulation by the banks. When the note circulation returns to normal, gold is released. The statement issued to-day shows the total note circulation at the end of December, 1929, was $175,000,000. At the end of January it amounted to 156,002,961. There was, therefore, a decrease during the month of $19,434,638.

President Stibbs refused to discuss the company's plans prior to a visit of inspection of the mine, which is scheduled for to-day. He stated that the mine had been bought from Toronto interests for incorporation in a wide scheme for immediate service.

Everything was stated to be in readiness for commencement of the de-watering of the mine.

EIGHT HOUR LIMIT AT CAR WHEEL ASKED

Labor Amendment to Motor Vehicle Act to Be Moved By Thomas Uphill

A limit of eight hours a day at the wheel for any paid driver of a motor vehicle is proposed in an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act standing on the order papers in the name of Thomas Uphill, labor member for Fernie in the British Columbia Legislature.

The amendment is sponsored by the Victoria branch of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and others, and embraces virtually every man who drives a motor car for any kind of pay for doing so. There are 300 members of the union in Victoria. Sam Howard, president of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, stated this morning, including drivers of every variety of delivery wagons, chauffeurs, taxi men, truck drivers and bus drivers. In support of the amendment it is argued that eight hours is a reasonable time to expect a man to remain at the wheel of a car and drive to the public safety.

NEW BILL DRAFTED TO GOVERN NON-MEDICAL HEALERS OF PROVINCE

REGISTER IMMEDIATELY
Chiropractors and druggists practitioners who were practicing on January 1, 1927, are allowed to be registered immediately under the act and to practice in accordance with it.

The act takes account of the existence in British Columbia of the B.C. Chiropractic Association and the B.C. Sanipractic and Naturopathic Practitioners' Association. In the case of each of these bodies, three members may call a meeting and elect five persons, who shall be members of a board to handle the affairs of the association. The boards governing chiropractors and druggists healers will be similar exactly in constitution. The members of the board and its regulations may be approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Candidates for the right to practice either profession must be duly qualified students of an established school of healing, the course of which consists of at least three terms of six months each, or a total of eighteen months. After being graduated from such a school a candidate must pass an examination satisfactory to the examining board established by the profession in various subjects including anatomy, physiology, chemistry, pathology, histology, neurology, physical diagnosis, gynecology, hygiene and principles and practice of the methods of treatment used in the respective professions.

CANNOT BE CALLED DOCTOR

The law specifically provides that no person must call himself a chiropractor unless he is qualified as a chiropractor under the act. Neither chiropractors nor druggists practitioners can use the title "Doctor." Nor may they prescribe the use of drugs or anesthetics for any purpose whatever. They are forbidden also to practice surgery or misadventure. They are allowed to recover their fees in the courts according to the scale set by their respective boards.

The act will not apply to anyone practicing under any general or special act of the Legislature, to any person acting under the direction of a medical doctor, to the administration of first aid or to any person treating the sick by prayer or spiritual means.

Chiropractors and druggists practitioners must comply with the Health Act and the Vital Statistics and are not relieved from any present obligation to provide for medical or surgical treatment of any person by medical men. This clause is designed to ensure enforcement of regulations like that requiring medical examination of applicants for positions in the Civil Service and similar occupations.

NOTIFY MEDICAL AUTHORITIES

In addition, the provisions of the Health Act regarding infectious diseases will apply to chiropractors and druggists practitioners absolutely. That is, they will have to notify the medical authorities of the municipality or province, as the case may be, whenever they discover a case of an infectious disease and must take the other steps required of the medical profession in that matter.

The act specifically provides that chiropractors and druggists practitioners must not use x-ray.

Gordon Cameron, counsel for the B.C. Chiropractic Association, announced that his new act was regarded generally as satisfactory to his clients.

J. A. Fletcher, counsel for the druggists practitioners, declined at this stage to comment on the act. It is understood some of his clients object to the regulations of their profession being made subject to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

TWO GREAT MEN MEET; ROGERS ADMIRES G.B.S.

On his arrival in London to report the Naval Conference for American newspapers recently, Will Rogers, the famous American humorist, film star and ex-cowboy, announced that one of his greatest ambitions was to meet Bernard Shaw. The introduction was effected by Charles Graves, who below describes what happened.

By CHARLES GRAVES

When I called on Will Rogers at his hotel ten minutes before zero time to fulfil my promise of an introduction to Bernard Shaw, the ex-cowboy quivered a little. "Say," said he, "let's go and forth ourselves."

Five minutes later we had left the American bar and were in a taxicab bound for Whitehall Court. "You know, I'm not a bit skeered of meeting Bernard Shaw," he confided, rubbing his hands over his face in that curious way of his when he is nervous. "I saw that talkie-short of him. We used to think he would bite if you looked at him. But folks now say 'Yeh, he's a nice old bird after all.'"

We reached Whitehall Court, went in the lift, and were shown into the dining-room. Will Rogers talked all round the room, looked out of the window, asked how one spelt "spinet"—the predecessor of the piano—for he had seen one in the corner, and walked round the room again.

A moment later Bernard Shaw, in a dark brown suit, bounded into the room, shook hands, pushed Will Rogers on to a sofa, and sat down himself on a blackless stool, long legs crossed in front of him.

THE BETTER WAY TO KILL
Within a minute the two men had sized each other up and were talking about the Naval Conference.

"It's not a disarmament conference," said Bernard Shaw, "it's an armament conference. They are just arguing about whether it will be better to kill people with 12-inch shells than 15-inch shells."

"Yeh," said Will Rogers. "It's all about battleships, and how does that affect one? Very few folk can point to an ancestor who was killed by a battleship."

For an hour it went on, sally for sally, laughing agreeably at the world. Shaw told how he suggested to the Admiralty the idea of aircraft-carriers. As he spoke he rocked his stool with his hands, tilting it forward, sideways and backward. When he laughed, he said almost on his back or jerked his head forward as if discussing a right hook. Meanwhile Will Rogers would clutch the sofa between his knees and suddenly tilt himself forward excitedly.

Conversation veered to "The Apple Cart." By this time Bernard Shaw had become the genial schoolmaster and Will Rogers his favorite pupil. Now and then Will Rogers would hold up his hand too, just as if he was asking for permission to talk, which was exactly what he was doing. Sometimes he got it. When he did speak he would close his left eye meaningfully to show how serious he was.

When Mr. Shaw made some remark that struck him as particularly witty, he would set his arm, duck his head, and say ecstatically: "Oh, boy ain't that great?" Both were so obviously enjoying themselves that the time flew unnoticed.

"THAT'S A GREAT PLAY,"

"Say that's a great play," Will Rogers had started to "gab" again, as he calls it. "I was telling a buncha guys at lunch to-day that I went to see 'The Apple Cart.' In American money my seat was back about three bucks. Well, I ain't an educated fellow, but I had enough sense to see what I was missing. Every now and then I would put my hand up"—he suited the action to the words—"and would grab ten dollars of epigram flying overhead. Altogether I reckon I came away with one hundred dollars' worth of stuff. If I'd been educated I reckoned I'd have made one thousand dollars' profit on it."

"This, as you may guess, went very well, particularly as it was so obviously genuine. Mr. Shaw then gave his impressions of Mr. Kellogg. But it was a privileged occasion. He spoke of Russia, which he said would compete with America for the supremacy of the world.

Soon they reached the subject of "Talkies." Will Rogers explained how he had been ordered to study Mr. Shaw's talkie-short to learn the correct technique. "Mr. Shaw boomed," Will Rogers tried to imitate Mr. Shaw's drawl. Mr. Shaw said that there were great melody and rhythm in the American voice. It was a new instrument in the orchestra of conversation. He gave illustrations. Then they talked about Sam Goldwyn's latest visit to Mr. Shaw. He still wants to make "Arms and the Man" into a film—with 100 extra

When it was time to go both men rose reluctantly. Will Rogers admired Bernard Shaw so much and Bernard Shaw admired Will Rogers' admiration so much that it was a shame to part.

"I asked a man to-day who you were," said Bernard Shaw, as we took our leave, and he told me that you were a Cherokee Indian by extraction. I thought you'd come in feathers and paint."

"Oh, yeh," said Will Rogers proudly. "I've got Red Indian blood in me. But you—I guess you aren't so frightening after all, sir."

"Oh, I'm only an amiable old fossil," said Bernard Shaw.

Body Can Stand Extreme Cold Better Than Is Supposed

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Death from exposure to cold occurs fairly frequently in the temperate zone. The mortality ranges anywhere from 200 to 400 deaths per year in the registration area of the United States.

In Canada and Alaska, illnesses and deaths from cold may be even more frequent. Recently, Dr. S. W. Britton has made a special survey of the relationship of cold to life and has discovered some extremely interesting facts. It has been found that some fish can survive exposure to sea water at temperatures from 10 to 12 degrees below zero for several hours.

FROZEN BUT NOT KILLED

Under such circumstances, the fish gradually lose all sensibility and finally appear to be frozen stiff. The heart itself stops. The animal may be practically frozen to death for a brief period, then the temperature of the surrounding water increased and it comes to life.

As the animal returns to life, the heart beat appears first, and then breathing, then vision, and the ability to maintain a proper position in the water, and finally the ability to swim. It has even been found that the heart of a fish can be frozen for several hours at a temperature of -4 degrees Fahrenheit and yet after slowly thawing, it will recover to natural rhythm. The human body is likewise able to withstand extreme degrees of cold under certain circumstances. Records have been made of instances in which drunkards have been exposed to extreme degrees of cold air and water for hours and still recovered. One drunkard whose body temperature was 70.4 degrees Fahrenheit and who had been exposed all night to air at about 21.2 degrees Fahrenheit, completely recovered.

The individual's temperature may fall considerably, and Dr. Britton provides records varying from 79.5 degrees Fahrenheit to 83.1 degrees Fahrenheit, with recovery after treatment. Recovery in cases of exposure while drunk depends in large measure on the amount of alcohol taken, the resistance of the individual generally and the percentage amount of cooling that he undergoes.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION IS A HELP

Just as in cases of unconsciousness due to other causes, such as gas poisoning, strychnine and many instances in which the circulation and respiration are greatly interfered with, artificial respiration may frequently be practiced with success. Warm baths or packs gradually increased to high temperatures and the drinking of warm fluids are valuable aids to resuscitation when unconsciousness occurs due to freezing.

For this reason, persons who seem to be dead from the results of freezing should not be permitted to pass away without any attempt being made to restore them to life. Just as people have responded to relief after electric shock or drowning after several hours, so also in freezing the attempt to resuscitate should be prompt and long continued.

SAANICH WILL TAKE VOTE ON HIGH SCHOOL

Council Defers Approval of High School Loan Measure
For Week

No Option Taken By Trustees on Property Announced as Site, Reeve Crouch Protests

The Saanich Council last night unanimously decided that financing of a high school from current revenue would be impossible and that a request from the School Board for an appropriation of $83,000 would have to be submitted to the taxpayers in the form of a by-law authorizing an issue of debentures.

The School Board presented proposals for construction of a frame school, at a gross cost of $105,000, of which $20,000 had been guaranteed by the Department of Education.

Reeve Crouch remarked that the grant allotted Oak Bay for a school of similar cost was $35,000 and considered reduced allotment discriminatory against Saanich. Robert Brydon, secretary to the board, said the matter was being taken up with the Department of Education.

Trustees Tomes, Briggs and Jones waited on the council.

Reeve Crouch demurred against the omission of the School Board to obtain an option to purchase the desired school site, and suggested that agreement by the council to submit the desired by-law be deferred until the option be obtained.

Mr. Brydon assured the council that no trouble would be experienced in securing the chosen site on Falmouth Road from Mr. Saul, who had agreed to sell for $6,000.

On behalf of the board Trustees Tomes protested against requirement that an option be obtained on the Saul property. Trustee Briggs pointed out that as no site would be specified in the by-law, the board retained the power to select another site after the by-law had passed, especially if unable to buy the Falmouth Road site at the price offered.

The School Board then formally applied for submission of a by-law to the ratepayers. By a four-three vote the council withheld approval for one week after Reeve Crouch had appealed to the trustees to secure a dollar option on the property favored. "We will then pass the by-law whether or not the option has been obtained," Reeve Crouch promised.

EIGHT CLASSROOMS

The proposed high school will be of frame and semi-fireproof construction, stucco finish, two stories and basement, modern construction, hot water heating, modern plumbing and equipment.

The building will provide eight standard classrooms, one commercial room, one combined chemistry and physics laboratory, separate gymnasium and auditorium will be provided if funds permit. If not, these will be combined.

The building, including architect's fees will cost $80,000, equipment $3,000, site $6,000, cost of by-law floating loan $3,000, incidentals $1,000, gross total $105,000, less government grant of $20,000, net cost $85,000. In addition the council will be required to provide instant and sinking fund for the first year.

Reeve Crouch recalled that the School Board had last year received an advance of $9,500 for capital expenditures. He said the school facilities to have been repaid from the proceeds of the by-law which failed at the polls. The trustees asked the council to the trustees to secure a dollar option to the amount being treated as an extraordinary estimate for the current year, a course approved by the council.

Indigestion Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 30 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drug store. (Adv.)

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, March 7.—Wheat was strong during the first period to-day when prices scored gains of 1 1/2 cents over the close yesterday, but this upturn was not held, the market finally settling off and getting below the previous close. The trade volume to be the smallest of several days.

The farm board statement made after the close yesterday that they were prepared to buy all the surplus wheat in the United States, if necessary to hold up prices, was the chief influence in the market at the start, causing some further short-covering and also bringing in some new speculative buying both from locals and through commission houses, while Chicago interests were also credited with moderate buying of the May.

However, the bulk of the buying was finished in the first fifteen minutes, after which the market turned dull with the buying power very thin and featureless, while buyers were yesterday and this morning were liquidating and taking profits.

Seaboard sales between 600,000 and 750,000, but less than half of figures could be confirmed, locally. There was a fair demand for cash wheat.

With government agencies buying wheat in the United States, and export sales away below normal, the market is in a very peculiar position and cannot function according to the law of supply and demand. However, buyers purchasing on the break will prove profitable.

Coarse grains.—These markets continued very dull and featureless. Oats and barley had fairly steady demand from all directions was quiet. Flax.—No feature, with very little going on. Demand very thin.

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Chicago, March 7.—Wheat: The effect of the marketing of the emergency wheat in the United States, and the remainder of this month was reflected in a relatively easy tone in the March wheat, while the buying support, based on the belief that the Farm Board will help support the market, was largely in May, the deferred months being relatively weak, especially the September.

It is not believed the Farm Board will make much of an effort to advance prices contrary to the general trend of a commodity price, but will support the market when necessary. Traders are inclined to work on this basis and are not inclined to press selling side on declines.

European conditions show little change. The narrow demand is reflected in small shipments from the Pacific and Australia as well as from this country. Export sales were 600,000 bushels, mostly Canadian wheat, Portugal, being credited with buying Manitoba wheat for shipment from Vancouver.

Receipts were fair, primary run being 609,000 bushels vs. 654,000 bushels a year ago. Some unfavorable reports were received from southern based on dry weather and high winds, but these failed to stimulate much buying, and later reports were more reassuring.

Domestic cash trade only fair. North American clearances for the week were 5,745,000 bushels, according to Bradstreet. Clearances for the day were 155,000 bushels.

Trading market is indicated pending improvement in the foreign demand, or unfavorable crop news, and for present purchases of May on dips for quick turns.

Liberal receipts for this time of the year here and in the west, the placing in effect of the carlot delivery rule and the ease in the cash market caused scattered liquidation in corn.

Prices sold off sharply, meeting support finally from holders of bids and shorts. Cash basis was steady to a lower, with receipts 260 cars estimated and primary arrivals of 870,000 bushels against 605,000 bushels a year ago.

Cash sales were 81,000 bushels for shipment and sales to arrive were 18,000 bushels. Weather fairly normal, the trend will hinge largely on the movement.

Oats held fairly steady in spite of the decline in corn. Oats situation pretty well normal, with small receipts, while shorts are fairly active.

Discusses Different Types of Flattery

Ella Cinders—

"VANITY of vanities," saith the preacher, "all is vanity." We are all vain. We all love praise and lap up flattery as a cat does cream. We all purr under the hand that rubs our fur the right way. Therefore, great are the emoluments that go to those who are adepts in the gentle art of jollying.

Now there are various schools of thought as regards this matter. There is, to begin with, what might be called the amateur class of flatterers who tell you that you cannot get too much of a good thing, and the more of it the better.

Their method is to plaster their opinion over with flatteries so thick that even the most egotistic fails to recognize himself. This is raw work, and it only makes a hit with those whose self-education is so great that they believe any praise is merely a modest tribute to their worth. The only people to whom it is safe to and compliments by the buckets full are those who are so superhumanly vain that they boast that they have to vanity and cannot be flattered.

Next comes the universal flatterer. These also are crude and amateurish in their methods. They tell every woman that she is a Greta Garbo and ask her why she does not go to Hollywood, where they are just waiting and longing for girls of her peculiar type.

They tell every man that he is a John Gilbert or a Gene Tunney, and it is a shame for him to be wasting himself shut up in an office when he might be making millions in the movies or in a prize ring. They pronounce every baby an infant phenomenon. Every story is the wittiest they ever heard. Every dinner the best they ever ate.

The universal flatterers get nowhere with their cajoleries because they are too cheap and too obvious. The flatterers show their hands too plainly. Besides, we have no relish for table d'hôte praise. We crave something that is specially cooked up for us. Nobody wants to be told she is beautiful and wonderful and witty and fascinating by a person who is telling that homely Mrs. Smith or that stupid Mrs. Jones exactly the same things about themselves. Nobody wants her baby praised by one who can't see how superior it is to that Thompson brat.

For praise is like diamonds. The rarer it is, the more value it has, and we would all rather have half a compliment from a bilious, pessimistic critic than a whole hallelujah chorus from one who pats everybody on the back.

Then there are the blundering flatterers whose intentions are good, but whose technique is poor. They have a fatal facility for saying the wrong thing and irritating where they mean to soothe. They tell a doting mother that a speaking image her child is of her sister-in-law, whom she hates, or they tell a jealous husband how much his pretty wife is admired by other men.

Or they tell an author how much they enjoyed that sweet little story of his in this month's magazine, when the writer has put his very heart's blood into trying to put across a tale of stark tragedy. Or they compliment an artist by calling a picture pretty in which he has striven to interpret the character in a world-worn old face or to portray some sublime, storm-tossed bit of nature.

In contradistinction to these are the adroit flatterers who play upon our weaknesses as upon a harp with a thousand strings and whose music harms us into such a trance of self-satisfaction that they may do with us as they choose. They have an unerring touch and they know by divination rather than by guesswork to be praised for the things we have and do, or the things we lack and would like to do.

So they tell a pretty woman how beautiful she is and that she is a vamp that no man can resist. Or they tell a college graduate how intellectual she is and that she has a mind like a man's. Or they tell a good-looking man that he is a sheik, or praise a self-made man for his achievements, or a purse-proud man for his riches. And they eat it up and ask for more.

But quite as often they do not flatter the beautiful woman for her looks, but dwell upon what a wonderful intellect she has and what a beautiful soul, and that tickles her vanity pink. For it makes her a sort of universal genius. She has heard about her beautiful eyes and her peaches-and-cream complexion from every man she has ever met and it leaves her cold, but she flattered out of reason at a man seeing more in her than just a living picture. It is because doctors and preachers talk to women about their souls and their minds instead of their bodies that they make such a hit with the fair sex.

And it is the same way with men. A homely man would rather be flattered by his looks than his achievements and a handsome man always wants to be told he is a Napoleon of finance, no matter even if he can't make a living. I know a multimillionaire who is prouder of the miserable poetry he writes than he is of having organized one of the biggest trusts in the country.

And, of course, the subtlest flattery is the indirect flattery that people now us when they brighten at our coming, when they listen with bated breath while we talk, when they seek our society and ask our advice, and somehow contrive to make us feel that they have put us on a pedestal and bow down before us.

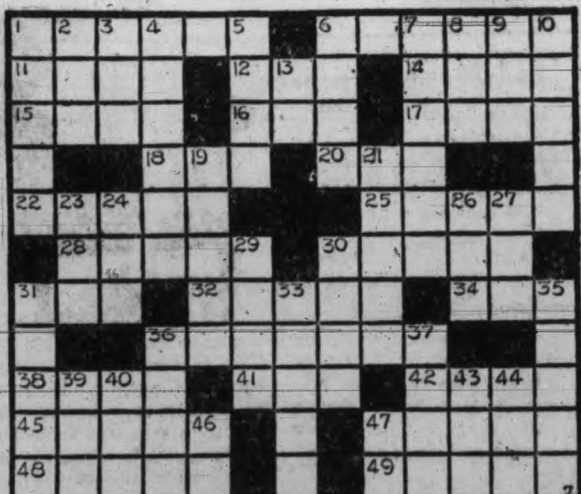

And there are two general compliments that always work whenever and wherever applied. Tell the young that they are sophisticated, and tell the old how young they look and that nobody would suspect their age. They all fall for that.

"Vanity of vanities," saith the preacher, "all is vanity."

Pearson on February 28:

2. What amount has been expended in furnishing an office for Hon. R. L.
Maitland, minister without portfolio,
since August 20, 1928?

Mr. Loughheed replied:
2. $489.77.
3. $943.95.

Mr. MacPherson asked the Minister of Finance:

1. What advertising space was used by the purchasing department during February, 1930, in the publication
"Information"?

2. What charge has been made for said space?

Mr. Gault replied as follows:
1. 58 inches.
2. Accounts not forwarded for payment.

Mr. Uphill asked the Minister of Public Works:

1. What was the contract price of the Silverton Cut-off on the Nelson-Roosevelt Road?

2. What was the actual amount paid the contractor?

Mr. Loughheed replied as follows:
1. Contract on unit basis. Department's estimate on basis of finished roadbed: 16 feet, $900,000; width of roadbed was increased to 18 feet, and in many places 20 and 22 feet.

2. $97,977.28 plus extra work throwing line into side hill to have whole of roadbed in solid and preparing subgrade for surfacing, $6,754.68, and surfacing new road to permit use by traffic, $5,442.78.

Mr. Kennedy asked the Attorney-General:

1. Was there an increase given in the amount of money paid by the Liquor Control Board for a barrel of beer in 1929?

2. Who was Attorney-General when such increase was given?

3. Was a select committee of the Legislature appointed to inquire into the circumstances of the said increase of the session of 1927?

4. Did the said committee file a copy of the evidence given on oath before the said committee?

5. Did such evidence (if any) disclose that prior to the granting of the increase in the amount of money paid for a barrel of beer the content of the barrel of beer was 9.7 gallons?

6. Did such evidence disclose that after the cash advance given the brewers for a barrel of beer the content of the barrel was reduced to nine gallons?

7. What was the excise tax on beer in 1929?

8. If the price per barrel was increased and the beer content of the barrel was reduced, what was the actual increase paid to the brewers, based on the content of the barrel?

9. Did the then Attorney-General

state in the Legislature that the net increase was $1.50 per barrel?

10. What solicitor, or firm of solicitors, represented the brewers in negotiations with the government in 1924?

11. If a solicitor, of what firm was he a member?

Mr. Pooley replied:
1. Yes. At the per barrel of ten dozen pints or six dozen quarts from March 1, 1924.

2. A. M. Manson, K.C.
3. Select committee of the Legislature was appointed to inquire into campaign funds, and incidental to that inquiry investigated the increase in the price of beer granted in 1924.

4. Yes.
5. Yes. Purchasing agent gave the following replies, under oath, before select committee:

9. How many gallons are in a barrel of bottled beer? A.—There are nine gallons—at the time you were speaking of—it is changed.

10. In the winter of 1924? A.—9.70 gallons in pints and 10.92 in quarts.

6. Answer by No. 5.
7. From January 1, 1924, to April 11, 1924, excise tax was 12½ cents per gallon and sales tax 6 per cent; from April 12, 1924, to December 31, 1924, excise tax was 12½ cents per gallon
and sales tax 6 per cent.

P. For the purposes of excise tax per gallon the Dominion Government regulations up to December 31, 1923, called for a barrel of ten dozen pints to be considered as 9.70 gallons and six dozen quarts as 10.92 gallons, and from January 1, 1924, the Dominion Government amended these figures for purpose of collection of excise to nine gallons for ten dozen pints and 10.92 gallons for six dozen quarts. For actual content of the barrel in keeping with this see answer to No. 5, while indicating apparent physical reduction of approximately 0.70 gallon in barrel.
Difference of 0.70 gallon in content of barrel of nine gallons was approximately difference in returns to brewers on content of barrel:
0.70 gallons for $15 $1.546 per gal.
9.00 gallons for $16.50 1.333 per gal.

increased by the amount of the reduction in sales tax from 6 per cent to 5 per cent.

DESERT ROMANCE AND THRILLS IN CAPITOL FEATURE

Screen lovers who enjoy a picture with thrills, excitement, suspense and romance will be keen for "The Lone Star Ranger," Fox Movietone all talking version of Zane Grey's novel with George O'Brien and Sue Carol in the leading roles, which opened at the Capitol yesterday.

Neither O'Brien nor Miss Carol have ever been more happily cast. Both give convincing performances and the picture is kept breathless from start to finish.

It is a story of daring and skill with a background of the exciting exploits of the Texas Rangers. The supporting cast includes Walter McGrail, Russell
Simpson, Warren Hymer, Lee Shumway, Colin Chase and Elizabeth Patterson.

SCREEN COMEDIAN IS SCIENTIST IN SPARE MOMENTS

Mack Swain, who plays the role of Bragg in support of Will Rogers in the Sam E. Brown production "A Texas Steer," for First National, has been a featured comedian on the screen for fifteen years, yet his hobby is inventing and all his spare time is devoted to scientific reading. The comedy special,
"A Texas Steer," is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

"They took a wise-cracking comedian and a director who specializes in humorous touches, and shook 'em up together in one picture."

This is William Haines' explanation of how "Navy Blues," his first all-talking picture, was made, and, incidentally, how Haines also explains the unique flavor of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. It has Haines comedy and Brown human touches, tense drama and a thrill or so interspersed among laughs, and the picture is a love story. The new picture, which will be exhibited to-day and Saturday at the Dominion Theatre, is, Haines thinks, one of the best roles in his career.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PENSIONS ARE DEBATED

Commons, on Premier King's Request, Sends Them to
New Committee

Ottawa, March 7.—When the House of Commons yesterday afternoon was debating the motion of Dr. Peter Mc-Gibbon, Conservative, Muskoka, with respect to the granting of pensions to war veterans, Premier King discussed the motion and the amendment thereto some time, and concluded his remarks by moving both be referred to the pensions committee of Parliament recently announced.

The amendment, moved at the beginning of the discussion by W. G.
Ehrst, Conservative, Quinsu-Lunenburg, read:

"That in any application for a pension where disability or death occurs, such disability or death shall be presumed to have resulted from and be attributable to military service unless until the contrary is proved."

COMMITTEE PLAN BEST
Agreeing some amendments to the Pensions Act might be made, Premier King said they could be worked out better by the committee after it had heard the evidence of returned men.
The House could not take into consideration individual cases which might be considered in committee and have an important bearing on the proposed changes in the act.

Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Conservative,
Toronto East, who spoke before Premier King, said that while he approved of the measures proposed by the government for instituting veterans' allowances, he thought the House should first consider amendments to the Pensions Act.

He wanted the committee to have a mandate from the House authorizing it to embody the principle of shifting the onus of proof from the applicant for a pension to the administration in legislation.

RULING BY SPEAKER
When Premier King moved both the McGibbon motion and the amendment be referred to the pensions committee of the House, Speaker Lemieux announced such a motion was non-debatable. This brought Conservative objections.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, claimed the Prime Minister's proposal did not constitute an amendment to the motion before the House.
It was a new motion, and notice of it must be given, he said. Otherwise it was not in order.

Speaker Lemieux quoted authorities in support of his ruling. A motion "to commit" a piece of legislation to a committee is recorded as having been held at the places mentioned, and deaths in each case not necessarily having occurred within the municipal limits. To segregate would require perusal of papers in each case.

Mr. Uphill asked the Attorney-General:

1. Who received the contract for 1929 automobile license plates?

2. What was the contract price, and where manufactured?

3. Who received the contract for 1930 automobile license plates?

4. What was the contract price, and
where manufactured?

Mr. Pooley replied as follows:
1. J. R. Tracy and Son Limited.
2. 14 cents per pair; Vancouver.
3. Thompson Heating and Ventilating Company.
4. 13½ cents per pair; no definite information.

5. No contract let.
6. Answered by No. 5.

committees of the House was quite in order, he stated.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, South Wellington, Ont., objected. The ruling of the Speaker meant the government had power to apply closure to any private member's resolution, he said. All the government had to do was to arrange for one of its members to move "to commit," he claimed.

Finally the Speaker called for "yeas"

tion was declared carried.

WANTS ISLAND HIGHWAY PAVED INTO NANAIMO

C. F. Davie Says Other Work
More Pressing Than West Coast Road

Pays Glowing Tribute to Na-naimo Member For Masterly Speech

Island highway construction, with a plea for the completion of paving between Victoria and Nanaimo, the main artery of Vancouver Island, were dealt with by
C. F. Davie, Conservative, Cowichan-Newcastle, during the debate on the budget in the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Davie briefly touched on the proposed West Coast road, to remark that no matter how desirable it might be the Nanaimo to Victoria paving and the linking of that arterial road with Long Beach, one of the most beautiful scenic attractions on the western coast of North America, and other similar attractions which would swell
the tourist travel to Vancouver Island, should have precedence. He thought the members for Nanaimo and Alberni would agree with him on this point, and both intimated they did.

Mr. Davie, proceeding, agreed the West Coast road, from the southern portion of Vancouver Island was much to be desired, but not at the sacrifice of the work he mentioned.

TRIBUTE TO PEARSON
In opening his speech, Mr. Davie said he had not been prompted to speak to answer arguments against the budget. There was very little which the member for Nanaimo had said to which he did not subscribe. If there was one member who divorced himself from politics when he rose to speak it was the member for Nanaimo.
He had made a masterly speech, and was to be congratulated on the impression he had made.

Then Mr. Davie turned his attention to T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition. He called him the self constituted leader of a section of the province groaning under the oppression of an autocratic government. He declared this section existed in the mind of Mr. Pattullo only, and the groanings were attributable to the past administration. Not a single one of Mr. Pattullo's projects when he was Minister of Lands had been a success, he claimed, and it had cost the people of British Columbia $20,000,000 to have him in office.

PATRONAGE
Touching on patronage, Mr. Davie said most of the deputies and responsible officials of the government had been undisturbed. When Dr. J. J.
Gillis, Liberal, Yale, raised the point of Dr. D. Warnock, discharged from the post of Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mr. Davie replied that this official came from the prairies, and there were capable men in British Columbia to fill the position. In his own particular district every single road foreman was secretary or president of a Liberal organization, and had been removed because of that. On campaign funds, he noted that A. M.
Manson, K.C., had spoken as though his conscience had been shocked, and said it was a wonder that his conscience did not cause him to resign
when he was Attorney-General.

FOUND NOT GUILTY
Fort Arthur, Ont., March 7.—Fred Padanuk, charged with the murder of William Nowacki of Fort William, who received fatal injuries at a wedding brawl November 24, was found not guilty by a jury here yesterday.
During the trial, witnesses testified that Nowacki was an uninvited guest at the wedding and that a general fight started when he insulted another guest by offering him an empty wine glass.

POWER OF PRAISE SHOWN IN COMEDY DRAMA AT VARIETY

The power of a word of praise is amply demonstrated in the comedy
"Love and Horseradish," which the Toby Leitch Players are presenting at the Variety Theatre this week.

Torrents of laughter greet the clever quipps and sallies of this play, which was a shining Broadway success.

Bill McAllister is shown as a suitor for the hand of Hamel Robinson. Bill is endowed with no wealth at all, and not even a job. But he understands human nature and knows the value of a little judicious praise, and, well, indeed, that he wins Hazel in spite of parental opposition.

To-night is another night and a fine roster of vaudeville acts is included on the programme. Every patron of the Variety this week is eligible to win a free airplane trip to Vancouver or Seattle and return through courtesy of the Alaska-Washington Airways of B.C. and the Gray Line tours.
